HAMILTON WINS AT TOURNEY

Today

Sun, Medicine, Fire.
Forty Billions.
Earth's Great Floods.
Buy in America.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

HIPPOCRATES, Greek physician, dead about 2,500 years, knew what some doctors don't know yet. He said
"What the sun does not heal, medicine heals, what medicine does not heal, fire heals." Hippocrates knew nothing about germs, but observation taught him that sunlight destroys disease, and that intense heat burns it out.

A GREAT Berlin surgeon, Dr. Bier, goes back to the old Greek fighting diseases with heat, applied to surgery.
Cutting out cancer with heat and cau-terization, is said to be more effective than ordinary surgery, or use of radium and to make possible operations where the knife cannot safely reach.

THE French astronomer Flammar-ion, said to this writer, shortly before he died: "We are only on the threshold of knowledge, everything is within and beyond our sight." He had been talking of the forty thousand odd suns that had been counted in the Pleiades, which to Tennyson looked like a few trifles "tangled in a silver braid." Large fireflies, when you consider that some of them are more than ten million times the size of our earth.

WAR is very costly. The most recent big war, into which we injected ourselves, although it was not our war, cost forty billion dollars, at the lowest estimate. It cost in lost time, crime and other ways, twice forty billions. But that sum, we actually spent. Let's hope we'll keep out of the next war.

The Los Angeles Examiner reminds you that for forty billions you could build 15 great cities like Los Angeles.
You could build two million miles of good roads, at $20,000 a mile. You could send 10,000,000 boys and girls through college at a cost of $4,000 each, or build nearly 1,000 school houses costing a million each, for every state in the Union.

We hesitated about the Panama Canal, "so terribly expensive." For the price of that war we could build 120 Panama Canals, do all the work this nation needs; canals to ocean and gulf from the lakes, irrigation, Colorado river, everything, and have billions left over.

AND PLEASE REMEMBER THIS,
one of those forty billions, honestly and efficiently invested in aircraft and submarines, would make another war unnecessary, and the aircraft would pay their cost in peace, working for the postoffice, carrying express and passengers, keeping up a self-supporting army of fliers, ready to fight if necessary.

THE bursting of a dam, par. of Los Angeles' water supply, in San Francis-quito Canyon, cost several hundred lives. Reasons are given for the dam giving away, but no adequate excuse.

CROWDS VISIT FASHION EXPO

Spring Display Day Ob- servance Ends on Saturday.

Large crowds from many out-of-town points are in East Liverpool today for the Spring Fashion show, which is under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce. The exposition will close Saturday night.

Spring creations in all lines of merchandise are being shown by merchants.

The Fare Refunding association is paying the fares of out-of-town shoppers. Courtesy cards have been furnished for convenience of those who drive their automobiles here for the show.

The most outstanding feature in the showing of spring frocks in the smart shops is the right-about-face from distinctive simplicity to an equally distinctive but much more elaborate display of ruffles, flares, tiers, penumsberthas and loosely flowing sleeves.

The long silhouette is still retained, however, as all flounces and ruffles are kept well within the modern trend for slenderness so that they serve merely to break the monotony of plain-ness without changing the contour of the lines of the figure.

Satin and silk crepes are the favorite for afternoon dresses while taffeta and chiffon (both plain and powdered) are most popular for evening wear.

The two frocks shown here today follow the new mode and are extensively good for the too thin girl who wishes to achieve a more rounded contour without losing the advantage of her slenderness.

The dinner gown is of black mousseline.

to raise funds to pay for convention entertainment features.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTO SMASH

John W. Hayden, 42, 1015 St. George street, was brought to the city hospital last night, suffering from lacerations to his face, sustained at New Cumberland when an automobile driven by Daniel M. Cronin, New Cumberland pottery manufacturer, crashed into a New Cumberland-Steuenville bus. Mrs. Ma Marshall Cronin, wife of the driver, who was a passenger in the car, was slightly injured. Three other passengers were unhurt.

The party was enroute to Bellaire to organize a Colored Republican club, when the bus suddenly rounded a corner and stopped in front of Cronin's car. Hayden, who was sitting in the front seat with Cronin, was thrown against the windshield which was shattered. He was attended at the hospital by Dr. R. J. Marshall.

STATE ORDERS INQUIRY INTO DAM DISASTER

Charge Huge Reservoir
Was Anchored in Soft Rock.

BLAME ENGINEERS

Sensational Charges
Made by California
Official.

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—While the indomitable people of devastated Santa Clara valley stuck to their task of digging out from the debris and wreckage strewn in the wake of the St. Francis dam flood today, the state of California took a firm hand in the investigation to fix the blame for the breaking of the huge dyke which took a toll of hundreds of lives and millions in property loss.

The state investigation was ordered by Governor C. C. Young following charges that the St. Francis dam, built by the city of Los Angeles at a cost of $1,500,000, had been insecurely anchored in soft, red conglomerate rock.

The sensational charges were made by State Engineer Edward Hyatt, Jr., who declared the responsibility rested with the Los Angeles engineers who built the 205 foot concrete arch across the precipitous San Francis-quito canyon.

Tyatt made his report to Governor Young after a personal inspection of the site where the dam once stood.
All that remains of the massive arch is a huge slab of concrete, left standing in the center of the debris like a mammoth tombstone for those who died in the disaster. Both abutments were carried away by the unleached flood.

SIX TRAFFIC LAW OFFENDERS FINED

A campaign by police to break up the practice of driving on the left side of the traffic post at the intersection of Broadway and St. Clair avenue, resulted in the arrest of six offenders last night.

Each paid a fine of $3 in police court this morning.

The arrests were made by Patrolman Chester Smith, who was detailed to watch for drivers, who, it is charged, make a "flying start" for the hill.

Those fined were H. M. Laycock,
George Shawke, George Bosco, George
Shields, E. H. Ardell and Clarence Holden.

J. G. FRANK NAMED EPPLEY MANAGER

J. George Frank, automobile salesman, has been named sales manager for the M. E. Eppley Motor Sales company, Minerva street, distributors of Chrysler automobiles.

Frank, who was connected with the Simms Motor Sales company for many years, helped to introduce the first Chrysler car in this district. He has been a district sales representative for the Cord Tires corporation for about 18 months.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS ARE NEEDED HERE, M'VAY WARNS

All Buildings Crowded, Superintendent Tells District Board.

5,800 ENROLLED

Two Additional Structures Necessary in Near Future.

Warning that the board of education will be called upon, within the near future to erect two Junior high schools to relieve overcrowded conditions which exist in practically every school building of the district," was given by Superintendent of Schools C. S. McVay at a meeting in the high school building, last night.

Because of the increased enrollment in the high school, additional room will be required in the Central building for high school classes, McVay said. Elementary school pupils there will be transferred to the Third street, Sixth street and other buildings.

Congestion is especially acute in the Lincoln, Garfield, Horace Mann and Neville schools. To provide for temporary relief in the East End, the board will be called upon, McVay declared, to provide additional school rooms in a dwelling on the school site near Oakland or to erect portable buildings.

Record Enrollment.
Enrollment at the present time, the superintendent stated, is about 5,800, the largest in the city's history. This is said to be equal to that of Steubenville, which is larger than East Liverpool.

By the establishment of two Junior high schools, one in the East End and another in the downtown district, several rooms in elementary buildings would be vacated. The board owns a site in the East End which was purchased about two years ago. No site for a building in the downtown district was mentioned.

Proposed abandonment of track events in scholastic athletics, reported to the board by a delegation of students two weeks ago, was referred to the athletic board. Members of the school board expressed the opinion that track should be self-supporting.

Superintendent McVay was instructed to employ an additional clerk in his office for the remainder of the school term.

Plan Summer School.

A. C. Moore, principal of the Sixth street school, and Miss Gladys Chamberlin, principal of the Klondyke building, were granted permission to conduct a summer school for elementary school pupils in the Central building this summer. This school will be under the supervision of the school superintendent.

Superintendent McVay was granted a leave of absence to attend an edu-

HINDU WEDDING BELLS TO RING

Nancy Miller, American girl, whose conversion to Brahmanism stirred Indian native worshippers. Miss Miller's marriage to the former maharajah of Indore, shown with her, has been the object of much criticism from all sides.
At the bottom a Hindu wedding scene is shown. The bridegroom sits astride an elephant adorned with glittering jewels. A colorful procession of relatives, dressed in bright costumes decorated with gold and silver trimmings follows.

Prince Wins U. S. Girl In Silent Courtship

Love Song of Former Maharajah of Indore, Who Weds Miss Nancy Ann Miller Tomorrow, Was One Without Words and With Music.

By Robert W. Thompson.

PARIS, March 16.—Tukojirao Holkar, Indian prince and former maharajah of Indore, who is to marry Miss Nancy Ann Miller, of Seattle, Wash., in India tomorrow, won his American bride-to-be through a strange courtship of silence, it was revealed today by European friends of the ex-ruler of Indore.

The ex-maharajah's love song, his friends said, was one without words and with music that only he and his fiancée could hear and understand.

This strange romance, which began in the United States, shifted to Europe when both happened to be visiting here at the same time. To his intimates in a select circle of Orientals and Europeans, the Indian prince was known as a very diffident man.

A woman member of this little group, whose title is scarcely known in America, but whose rank equals that of the former Maharajah, gave interesting details of the courtship
today.

"They—the ex-maharajah and Miss Miller—sat for hours at a time facing each other without saying a word," said the informant. "I have seen them that way on terraces at Cannes, Geneva, Anhalt and other places. The Indian's gaze was intense. Miss Miller's was more casual. The manner of parting was extraordinary. The exmaharajah, while keeping his eyes intently upon those of his fiancée, would bend forward slightly and let his fingers rest lightly upon Miss Miller's wrist. At the contact he would rise abruptly and stride away."

Met at Geneva.

This informant gave a different version of the couple's first meeting from that which has been published in American newspapers. According to the American version the couple became acquainted while the on-time maharajah was traveling in the United States. The noblewoman said they met at Geneva. Here is her story:

"It was in Geneva about a year

FATHER OF 10 KILLS HIMSELF

TOLEDO, O., March 16.—Martin Beres, 40, father of 10 children, killed himself today. His wife heard a shot and found her husband's body, a bullet through the heart, on the kitchen floor. Despondency over failure to find work is believed to have been his motive.

DISPUTE OVER JAZZ MUSIC CAUSES REPORT OF "REVOLT" ON BRITISH SHIP

LONDON, March 16.—The reported "revolt" upon the British battleship Royal Oak in the Mediterranean summer jazz music today to a dispute over jazz music.

The incident was called to the attention of the house of commons by Commander Bellairs, who said he understood a London newspaper was going to print a sensational dispatch that the captain and two officers of the Royal Oak refused to sail under their admiral and were carried as passengers as far as Gibraltar.

naval authority it was learned that the trouble arose over a dispute as to whether or not the battleship's band should play jazz music on board.

The Royal Oak is the flagship of Rear Admiral B. G. Collard, commanding the first battle squadron of the Mediterranean fleet. During a recent dance on board the warship Rear Admiral Collard ordered the band to play jazz music. Capt. K. G. B. Dewar, commanding the ship, refused.
This resulted in a dispute in which Commander H. M. Daniels also became involved.

NEW CONCORD AND KUNKLE ALSO GO INTO SECOND ROUND

Hillsboro Swamped,
35-7, in Opening
Cage Play.

TWO "B" BATTLES

Vanquished "A" Team
Held to Two Field Goals.

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—
Hamilton, New Concord and Kunkle won the right to enter the second round of play in the Ohio high school basketball tournament at Columbus this morning by scoring victories over their opponents in the opening contests.

Linthicum Leads Attack.

In the class A division, ran wild in toppling the "highly touted" Hillsboro aggregation by a score of 35-7.

The winning squad opened a crushing attack early in the contest and held Hillsboro to three foul goals to the final period. The first field goal for the Hillsboro team was by Jones, guard, three minutes before the end of the game. His tally was followed by a goal made by E. Wright who also scored two foul goals during the contest.

The Hamilton attack was led by Linthicum, forward, and Bayes, who amassed a total of 21 points. Post, substitute guard, scored three goals.

Oberlin Nosed Out.

Three Wright brothers were members of the Hillsboro squad.

In the highest fray of the morning play, New Concord battled an uphill game to defeat Oberlin, runners up of last year's tournament, by a score of 13 to 12. Anderson, forward of the New Concord team, scored eight of his team's points.

The brilliant work of Cox, at center, gave Kunkle a well earned victory over Tippecanoe City in the second game of the class B competition. Kunkle began scoring from all angles at the start of the second half leading 11 to 10 at the end of the first half.
The score: Kunkle 27; Tippecanoe, 21.

Hamilton-Hillsboro score follows:
Hamilton FG G Hillsboro FG G

150 STUDENTS CHEER POTTERS

Half Holiday is De- clared by Board of Education.

More than 150 high school students and other basketball fans are on their way to Columbus today where they will witness East Liverpool's opening game for the Ohio scholastic championship, with the McKinley High team, of Canton, on the Ohio State University court at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The board of education, meeting last night, declared a half holiday in the high school today. Unable to make train connections at Steubenville this afternoon, a dozen or more automobile loads of students and fans left for the capital city.

Many students departed by train this morning, excuses being accepted by School officials. Several high school teachers and a few elementary instructors were among those who made the motor trip.

Several high school students are reported to have started to "hike" to Columbus yesterday afternoon, following the route of the Lincoln highway to Mansfield, thence striking the Three C highway.

The high school team, which was accompanied by Coach Joseph Hurst and J. M. Decker, faculty manager, and George Vincent, student manager, arrived in Columbus Thursday afternoon. The team was quartered in the Fort Hayes hotel last night.

PACIFIC COAST LAND LAW IN COURT AGAIN

Japanese Citizens Attack Anti-Alien Legislation.

ASSAIL RULING

Two Suits Filed Involve California and Washington.

WASHINGTON—The anti-alien land laws of Pacific coast states—once held constitutional by the supreme court—have been brought before the court again in two suits involving California and Washington.

In both cases Japanese citizens are attacking the interpretation of the land laws by local authorities or the courts.

In one case Washington authorities are seeking to prevent a Japanese from conducting a farming business by the alleged device of placing corporation stock in the hands of his small American-born daughter. In the other, Japanese are fighting for the right to incorporate a hospital in Los Angeles.

Important Case.
The Washington case is regarded as of high importance by officials of that state who contend that an adverse decision would seriously cripple the state's effort to keep Japanese from owning land.

After the "White River Gardens" was incorporated to own land in Washington, all but three of the 2,600 shares were issued to S. Katsuno, a Japanese, according to the records placed before the court. Later, Katsuno transferred the stock to his 10-year-old daughter, born in and a citizen of the United States.

The Washington supreme court decided that S. Katsuno was the real beneficiary of the land and that the device of ownership was used to cheat the anti-alien land law. It ruled that the land should be surrendered to the state.

Treaty Violation.
In appealing, Katsuno contends that the interpretation of the court violated the treaty of 1911 with Japan, which gave Japanese citizens the right to incorporate in the United States, and deprive his daughter of constitutional rights.

The treaty also is relied upon by K. Tashiro, Isami Sekiyama and Paul K. Ito, who attempted to incorporate the "Japanese Hospital of Los Angeles." The secretary of state denied them incorporation papers but was overruled by the state supreme court, and the attorney general appealed the case.

The California authorities contend that use of land for the erection and maintenance of a hospital is not use of the land "for commercial purposes" as provided in the treaty.

Cookery Courses for Men.
The declaration of Sir Robert Horne, speaking at the Glasgow college of Domestic Science recently, that a cookery class for poor and isolated single men should be established, has found many champions among leading educators of Europe. J. P. Thomas, of the Battersea Men's Institute of London strongly favors the teaching of cooking to men, and his institution has established a men's class in the art. Among the pupils are both married and single men, and the instructor is a young woman. The entire duties of the kitchen are being taught, but stress is placed on the preparation of homely dishes. At each lesson the pupils' luncheon, or suppers for the next day are prepared. The tuition is about 25 cents a term.

Spirit That Wins

If a "never say die" spirit means anything in the daily walks of life or in sports, and the consensus of opinion is that it is an all-important factor in worthwhile accomplishments, the East Liverpool High school basketball team will add a few more laurels to its crown in the Ohio state championship play which started at Columbus today.

Say what you will about "flaming youth" and the so-called jazz age, blamed for the imaginary wrongs of the flapper, there is no denial of the quality of loyalty and sacrifice on the part of the Ceramic City student body, as attested by the rousing send-off they gave Coach Joseph Hulse and Captain Elmer English and their cohorts as they entrained here yesterday for the scene of the court battles that may mean a state title.

Class yells, pats on the back and smiles of pretty girls as well as the injunction, "Bring home the bacon," went with the Potters. And the determination stamped on the faces of the team members indicated that if a stout heart and playing ability count for anything, East Liverpool will stage another deserved demonstration next Monday night, when the boys return from the tournament.

And East Liverpool shall have no sinecure in the fight for the Buckeye title. Nine teams, including McKinley High, the initial hurdle tonight for the Hurstmans, Akron South, Stivers High of Dayton, Libby High of Toledo and quintets representing Columbus, Hamilton, Hillsboro and Fremont will be in the battle just as determined as the Potters to win the championship.

These contestants are the pick of teams from other high schools having a gross playing force of 1,170 students. And thousands of fellow students will be rooting, either at the scene of hostilities or at home, thus supporting the efforts of their representatives.

This is a healthful spirit, and proves that athletics should have a place in high school activities, for wholesome sport, played squarely, teaches a lesson that is not lost in the later life of the student.

Silent Vote

United States marines and sailors are in Nicaragua to assure a fair election.

Constantly increasing numbers of graves of Americans and Nicaraguans, as a result of the guerrilla warfare being waged makes one thing a certainty—a silent vote; but a silent vote which speaks volumes.

And the Nicaraguan election still is months away. In the meantime the number of dead and wounded will continue to mount. By the time the voting begins it is possible only the marine replacements and the Nicaraguan regulars will be left to vote.

But this is part of the game. As the dominating power in the Western Hemisphere the United States is called upon to safeguard the lawful interests of the minority powers. It happened in the case of Cuba. It happened when we sent troops to Vera Cruz. It has happened in other Latin countries. And it will happen in the future.

It is with regret we read of the killing of Americans by the Sandino rebels. But if these lives are not lost in vain there is a modicum of satisfaction in the belief they died for their country. With Sandino harassing the constituted Nicaraguan government, as he would be if the Americans were withdrawn, it would be only a comparatively short time until all the Central American countries were embroiled in a dispute which would endanger commerce, which would endanger life and property of Americans in these nations, and which might result in eventualities that would embroil the Washington government and some of its neighbors on the south.

While it is to be regretted that American lives must be sacrificed in a cause like that for which the rebel Sandino stands, still a more vigorous campaign should be prosecuted against him, in the hope that he might be exterminated and the shedding of Yankee blood halted.

Artificial Ripening

They're ripening tomatoes now, as well as other things, with ethylene gas. And a good job it is said to be doing, too. Tomatoes, picked and shipped grass-green from Mexico, are brought to edible condition in the northern states in about 10 days. Heat alone would take two weeks. They turn a deep, blushing red.

It is probably all right, though this is a form of the same gas that is used to eat the carbon out of automobile engines, and a professor of Purdue university advises ripeners to go a little slow with it until they're sure it won't be too rough on the inside of the human engine.

It does seem a pity, too, the way nature is being superseded in the maturing of vegetables and fruits. All such edibles, of course, are better when matured in the garden or orchard. Middle-aged people know that. The new generation, however, doesn't know much about it, and the next generation probably won't know anything about it.

More and more, our perishable foodstuffs are shipped from a distance and picked green to stand the trip. So for the beneficent sun, we have ethylene gas or the steam-heated warehouse and grocery store. And so fruits and vegetables, however scientifically handled, lose their real flavor.

For years New York's millions have lived on stuff picked green, until they are so hardened to it that few of them seem to know whether their fruit is green or ripe. Now other cities are suffering the same lamentable fate. Where now is it possible, in a big city hotel or restaurant, to get tomatoes or strawberries or oranges that are sun-ripened and taste of the sun?

Here is one reason, no doubt, for the lack of vitamins in our food. But we shall probably have them put in soon by artificial sunshine.

A city's health is often judged from the condition of its streets—and wisely too.

Storm Columbus, then onto Chicago for the national tournament, is the battle cry today of supporters of the East Liverpool High school basketball team, Eastern Ohio champions.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—On the day that promises to be the most momentous in the preliminary presidential campaign this year the organized women voters of the country, as represented by the National League of Women Voters, will be holding their annual convention in Chicago. The convention opens April 23 for a six-day session, and it is on Tuesday, April 24, that the primary election of delegates to national conventions will be held in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. Upon the result of those primaries, particularly the one in Ohio, may hang the Republican nomination for the presidency.

In selecting Chicago for its eighth annual convention, the League will return to the scene of its first convention. It was just eight years ago this month that the league was assembled first for a national meeting in conjunction with the fifty-first and final convention of the National American Women Suffrage convention. It will be the third time the league has met in a middle-western city and state, other conventions having been held in Cleveland, Baltimore, Des Moines, Buffalo, Richmond, and St. Louis.

When the league held its first convention, federal woman suffrage had not been granted, the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution not becoming effective until August 26, 1920. "What eight years of suffrage" has meant to women voters of the country will be stressed in all sessions of the April meeting and special attention will be given to the progress women have made in the field of practical politics.

In the eight years it has been in existence the league has had two presidents, Mrs. Maud Wood Park, of Portland, Maine, who served the first four years, and Miss Belle Sherwin, of Cleveland, now completing her second term. The other national officers at present are: Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president; Katherine Ludington, Adele Clark, Ruth Morgan, Elizabeth J. Hauser, and Janet L. Ramsey, vice presidents; Dorothy Ringland, secretary, and Alice G. Hixon, treasurer.

The league carries on its work through public meetings to consider special subjects, candidates' meetings, ballot-marking classes, study groups and round table, citizenship schools, institutes of government and politics, fact-finding groups, and through visiting legislative bodies, administrative boards, courts of law, and public institutions. Conferences are held with public officials on special problems, with experts on technical questions, and with individual citizens, or with special agencies, on community undertakings.

The league trains speakers and leaders for group discussions, publishes digests of laws, pamphlets on the subjects in its program, and bulletins reporting information and progress, and it encourages participation by all qualified voters in every step of the processes by which public officials are nominated and elected, including caucuses, primaries, conventions, and elections.

The special committee on immigration problems which was created in 1924, Mrs. Kenneth P. Rich, chairman, will submit a report to the pre-convention meeting of the General Council on April 24, and the report later may be presented to the convention.

Questions and Answers

By Frederic J. Haskin.

This newspaper puts at your disposal a corps of trained researchers in Washington who will answer questions for you. They have access to the answer departments, the libraries, museums, galleries, and public buildings, and to the numerous associations which maintain headquarters in the nation's capital. If they can be of assistance to you, write your question plainly, and send with a two-cent stamp to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Are radio telephones used on the trains in Germany? R. J.

A. The best trains provide this service for patrons. A lecturer recently stated that by means of this telephone, a traveler can call from his train any telephone in the Republic.

Q. What causes the day-to-day change in the weather one cold, next warm, then perhaps cold again? W. C. T.

A. The Weather Bureau says that this is mainly due to changes in the direction of the wind, and that in turn to changes in the distribution of air over the surface of the earth. The causes operating and their effects are rather complicated, but go back mainly to circulation between the equatorial and polar regions caused by the heating of the tropical regions and the cooling of the polar regions) as modified by the effects of the daily rotation of the earth.

Q. What is the name for the characteristic Paraguayan face? N. D.

A. It is called manduti. The groundwork of this face is usually composed of fillet, or threads forming the radii of the circular pattern. Upon these are woven the designs.

Q. Was Jenny Lind paid well for her concerts? L. M. W.

A. Jenny Lind was the highest paid singer of her day, the price paid for a seat to hear her often being from seven to eight dollars. However, tickets sold at auction brought as high as $650 each. P. T. Barnum, in his autobiography, gives the amount paid to Jenny Lind for her American tour as $176,475.09. This entire amount was devoted to founding and endowing art scholarships and other charities in her native Sweden.

Q. How is electricity used in exterminating tomato worms? M. M.

A. This unusual application of electricity in agriculture is being demonstrated on the farm of L. W. Purdum and Sons, Danville, Va. Having tried all recommended measures for the control of the tomato worm without success, Mr. Purdum conceived the idea of trapping the tomato moth before it could lay eggs. A simple trap with a 40-watt lamp was constructed. A three quart pan containing kerosene is suspended from the reflector about six inches below the lamp. The lights attract the insects and in flying against the globe they drop into the kerosene underneath.

Q. What kind of a victory is one in which the losses of the victorious are dangerously great? S. M.

A. It is called a Pyrrhic victory. Pyrrhus, king of Epirus, after his defeat of the Romans at Asculum in 279 B. C., exclaimed, "One more such victory over the Romans, and we are utterly undone." The remark has been paraphrased often to suit similar occasions.

ABROAD With McIntire

MONTE CARLO, March 16.—Monte Carlo is admittedly the most magnificent spot along the Riviera. What impresses you most is its scrupulous cleanliness and pin-like neatness.

Fifty years ago it was an uncultivated rock which today is the smallest principality in the world overflowing with animation.

The season is in June and July, but winter finds it crowded with the thousands lured here by the invigorating air, glorious sunshine and wonderful panorama of sheer mountains and sapphire sea. The harbor is dotted with private yachts flying the colors of all nations.

We arrived at the lunch time promenade—Monte Carlo parades before lunch. It is a daily fashion show of what has been called the smartest dressed crowd in the world. Open carriages jog by with women occupants carrying their tiny sun parasols. Men are in braided morning coats.

Every texture of humanity—from the coarsest to the finest—rubs elbows at Monte Carlo. It is a hive of passion, disappointment and strident joy. All its sordid ugliness is hidden with smothering grandeur. You can depend that at least one of the happy arrivals today will attempt a wretched suicide in a fortnight or so.

Two days ago a young American boy bespattered his brains on the Corniche Road with a bullet after losing his entire inheritance in a single night's play, but the news of such incidents never goes beyond Monte Carlo. The Administration constantly boasts of its generosity.

This consists in giving those destitute at the gambling tables second class fare back to the nearest large city. About the only news Monte Carlo sends out to the world eagerly is when someone breaks the bank. And this happens to one in perhaps a hundred thousand who lose. If you break the bank, Monte Carlo shows its fine streak of yellow and closes the play.

Yet Monte Carlo has a tranquil side and there are people who live here as quietly and uneventfully as they might in a small town. The matchless terraces and gardens resplendent with flowers, lull the visitor to the hideous tragedies the mask of gaiety hides.

The Casino, the magnificent gambling structure, is flanked on one side by the Hotel de Paris and on the other by the Cafe de Paris. A bold flight of marble steps leads up to its entrance. The only thing the Casino offers free is a writing room where presumably you may send home for more money.

The claim is made the tables are conducted with scrupulous fairness and are above suspicion. Each morning the roulette wheels are subjected—so they say—to minute scientific tests. My own opinion is there never was a strictly honest gambling hall and Monte Carlo is no exception.

If that appears crabbed, be patient. I lost $50 in ten minutes before dinner. That is before the dinner I intended to eat, but somehow appetite vanished. I'm a good loser any place up to a nickel.

The real nightly play at the Casino begins after dinner—between nine and ten o'clock. The crowds gather at the tables in a hushed solemnity which is only broken by the cries of the croupiers in their funeral garb and with pockets tightly sewed up. They trust those boys and how!

It is fascinating to watch them scoop up the plaques with their long handled little shovels. Nobody talks out loud in the Casino. Everybody speaks in whispers. Taut describes the atmosphere. At every table are the haggard feverish faces of the practiced gamblers. Also those incredibly old women whose hands seem claws and who drink deep of fiery brandy and inhale innumerable cigarettes.

After the Casino, a party of us rode in a one-horse carriage toward Monte Carlo to marvel at the amphitheatre of lights which fringed the Mediterranean and dotted the hills with flecks of yellow-like fireflies.

Walking along the Terrace today I accidentally fell in step with a man a furtive glance revealed as Chas. M. Schwab—me and Charlie.

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

A recent report of the United States Public Health Service reveals the distressing fact that diphtheria was much more prevalent in 1927 than for several years past. Over 80,000 cases were reported as against less than 70,000 in 1925 and 1926. There were about eleven deaths for a hundred thousand of the population.

We ought not to have so many cases of diphtheria. We need not have them. We have a means of guarding against this terrible disease. The toxin-antitoxin inoculation will spare your child this danger.

It is very young children, mere babies almost, who die from diphtheria. It is a terrible death to witness. I never want to see another and wish there might never be another.

There are some things we can't help, but we can stop this evil. I beg of you to talk with your doctor about it. He will advise you and assume all the responsibility of the treatment.

Diphtheria is caused by a particular organism, called the Klebs-Loeffler bacillus. This germ requires from two to seven days to grow in the throat of the infected child.

In about a week or less, the presence of the disease is shown by the sense of illness and slight fever of the victim. It isn't like the high fever, bounding pulse and acute symptoms of tonsillitis. The symptoms are less acute, although the throat is swollen and stiff and shows white patches.

The membrane in the throat is different from the patches appearing in tonsillitis. It is a tough membrane, not easily removed and, when it is pulled off it leaves a bleeding surface.

The pulse is fast but feeble. There are great weakness and prostration. Whenever a young child complains of feeling ill, give evidence of fever and has patches in the throat, send for the doctor at once. He will take a "culture" for examination in the laboratory. A bit of the material forming the patches in the throat will reveal whether it is really diphtheria, or whether it is a form of tonsillitis.

Anti-toxin is called for at once. The exposed children will be given protective doses of the same blessed remedy.

What we used to call "membranous croup" was really diphtheria. With our preventive measures that alarming disease has disappeared. Rarely now do we hear of a case.

There are some perfectly conscientious persons who object to serums and vaccines. They think it is dreadful to inject these into the delicate tissues of a child. They fear there may be contamination of the blood and all sorts of calamities.

I can sympathize with the fears of these good folks. But it has been proven over and over again by the most competent of scientific investi-

Colonel Lindbergh's Fortune.

In less than a year since Colonel Lindbergh set out from San Diego, he has amassed a personal fortune now estimated at almost a million. The only wonder may be that it is not more; it easily could have been. No one will begrudge him a penny. All will wish, for him a second year as prosperous. The money was made at no sacrifice of self-respect nor public esteem.

While yet in Paris, after his epochal crossing of the Atlantic from New York by air, this youth refused an offer of $800,000 to enter the motion picture field. He has since rejected other offers of comparable size. He has turned down vastly more wealth than he has received. From the first he made it clear that his business is aviation. The cash he has gained has been through his own effort in a field natural to him—writing on aviation. To book royalties and cash from newspaper syndicates are added awards of two great foundations, one carrying a life-annuity of $5,000, equal to a cash gift of $100,000. There are other sources also.

With adulations and earnings, Colonel Lindbergh remains unspooled, untainted by love of money. A year ago he was a mail pilot with a great idea. To all intents and purposes that is what he is today. The idea now is the advancement of aviation. Money, with him, is incidental, but of public willingness to have him increase in riches there is no end. —Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Be Frank in Advising Investments. It is fine to let a friend in on something by which he may make a little more money.

But it is not fair to persuade him to take a chance because you did.

It is always unwise to present a speculative proposition to a friend guaranteeing it as a good proposition.

Many men have been ruined by following the advice of friends.

From a friend, advice seems reliable, valuable, in the majority of cases, in every undertaking there are chances of failure.

Before you advise a friend take up the unfavorable side as well as the chance of success, going over both sides with him.

It is unkind to advise a friend to enter any proposition where there is an element of uncertainty as to results, without pointing out the pitfalls.

Some men have enough money over and above their needs to allow a certain sum for speculative undertakings and he may be willing to take a chance within a certain limit.

But you are not friendly when you let a friend lose through you. Copyright, 1928—International Feature Service, Inc.

$175,000 Fire Sweeps Rochester M.E. Church

Flames Also Damage Parsonage, While Another Blaze Damages Freedom High School.

BEAVER, Pa., March 16.—One building was destroyed and two others damaged by fires which yesterday swept the First Methodist Episcopal church and parsonage, resulting in estimated loss of $175,000, and the Freedom High school, where loss was confined to $1,500.

Official board of the church has already arranged a meeting to consider rebuilding the edifice, which was razed by fire thought to have originated from an overheated furnace in the basement.

Several firemen were endangered when section of the church roof collapsed. Rochester, North Rochester and Beaver fire departments controlled the flames after a three-hour fight. Rev. Richard B. Callahan and family were forced to flee from the parsonage.

The church had been rebuilt in 1912 and cannot be replaced, it is believed, for less than $250,000. About $25,000 insurance was carried.

Fire in the Freedom High school was confined to a coal storage room in the basement. No school was held yesterday afternoon or today.

ECONOMY MOVE

Debt Service Boost Caused by Sewer Bond Issue.

MIDLAND, Pa., March 16.—Actual operating expenses for Midland borough in 1928 will be lower than those of 1927, a study of the budget adopted by council shows.

Although the budget calls for expenditures of $175,832.50 this year, the figure includes two items totaling $100,000 not classed as operating expenses. Fairview road and incinerator projects will cost approximately $55,000 and debt service on municipal bond issues is $50,000 greater than last year because of the $206,000 issue of sewer bonds floated recently.

When shorn of the two improvements and the debt service charges, the 1928 budget shows a saving of several thousand dollars over expenses of last year.

Series A bonds floated in 1907 for the purpose of "purchasing the existing sewer system" will be retired this year, the budget revealed.

Issued for $30,000 at 20 years, the bonds which increased the indebtedness of the borough "from nothing to $30,000," as the old legislation reads, is entirely paid off except $2,000 which will be met this year.

Series B, council's second fling at bonding the Steel City, consisted of a $20,000 issue of street paving bonds and will not mature until 1932.

"Cyrano" First Night Busy.

To all the troubles of the usual "first night" of a play, many more were added for Mrs. Robert Lorraine, wife of the famous actor, at her recent debut as "Roxanne" at the opening of the revival of "Cyrano" in London. At the end of the first act the curtain refused to while to come down, and she had to hold her position until it did. Later in the evening, when she was acknowledging applause, the descending curtain fell on her arm and gave her a shock and a slight injury. Still later when she and her husband were on the stage alone, and he was "dying," a stage tree fell on him. He arose, pushed the tree back, and then resumed his "dying." The audience took the mishaps kindly, and declared Mrs. Lorraine a good actress and a good sport.

Sheiks Spurn Planes, Autos.
Airplanes and automobiles failed to impress a party of real sheiks when they recently visited a small town in the Soudan, but a staircase aroused their veneration. They were familiar with trees growing in groups, but they could explain the shade-givers being in rows only through the trees being able to walk. Water faucets amazed them, for to turn a screw and see water rushing out of a wall seemed magic to them. They bought a number of the "rods of Moses" from a junk dealer to hang on their walls at home to spurt water for them. When their error was explained the dealer took back the faucets, but later each sheik stealthily repurchased them so that he "would not be cheated out of the white man's magic."

NIGHT HIGHWAY PATROL ON JOB

LISBON, March 16.—Under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, a night highway patrol has been placed on duty for the purpose of detecting motorists who drive into the rural territory and dump garbage along the road.

The state board of health and state highway department have referred many complaints to the county board of health and County Health Commissioner T. H. Church who have enlisted the office of Sheriff George Wright to put an end to the nuisance.

The new patrol system went into effect Thursday night. License number of several machines from which garbage was thrown have been obtained, and as soon as the owners of these machines have been checked, arrests will be made.

MICHAEL PANE CASE SETTLED

LISBON, March 16.—The injunction case of Michael Pane of East Liverpool against J. C. Kelley and other county commissioners has been settled out of court and at the costs of the defendant. The suit involved the closing of a road.

In the suit of George W. Allen against David J. Arthur, carried to common pleas on appeal from a lower court, a jury has rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $50.

In the foreclosure proceedings filed by Perry Sanor against O. D. Hoon and others, the court order of March 9, setting aside the former appraisal and ordering a new appraisal has been vacated.

Exceptions have been filed in the order of the court dismissing the petition in the case of The City Savings Bank & Trust Co. against Willis Shockley and others, wherein judgment was sought for $1,162.79 and interest from Oct. 22, 1924.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO CLOSE MAY 4

LISBON, March 16.—The eight-month term of the county rural schools will close May 4, according to an announcement made today by H. C. Leonard, county superintendent. Nine-month term will end May 18. Pupils will be entered in the annual spelling bee and declaiming contest which will be held in the David Anderson High school here. Dates for both events will be determined later.

TWO DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

LISBON, March 16.—Gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are charged in the divorce petition filed by Attorneys Cochran and Crawford in behalf of Thelma G. Bennett against her husband, Donald J. Bennett, East Liverpool.

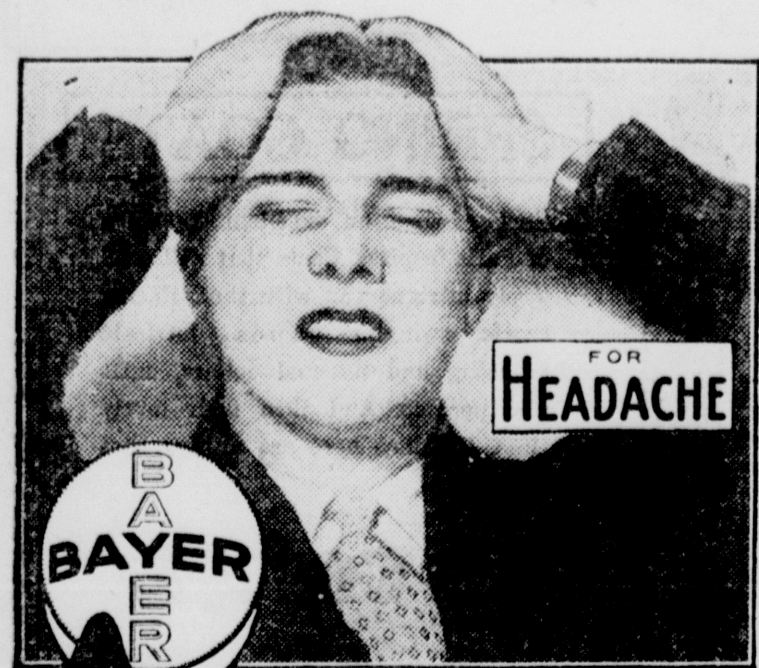

She asks in addition to a decree that the court restore her to her maiden name, Thelma G. Kirkbride. Temporary alimony is also sought by the plaintiff. The marriage took place at New Cumberland, W. Va., November 22, 1923. This is the fifth New Cumberland marriage that has entered the divorce court here in the past week.

Charlotte Bryan, through Attorney Ben. Bennett, has filed an action in divorce against her husband, Harry Bryan. The petition charges gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. They were married in Steubenville, September 1, 1905.

REPORTS BOOM IN PANHANDLE

Industrial Plants in County Busy, Inspector Says.

An industrial boom in the Northern Panhandle, comprising Hancock and Brooke counties, is revealed in the report of Robert Logan, deputy inspector for the four upper counties of the state. Logan is now engaged in making a survey of Hancock county.

Newell and Follansbee are two of the active centers, while Wellsburg and Weirton are busy places. The Kenilworth Tile company plant at Newell is working at 75 percent capacity, and the company is erecting new buildings.

The Homer Laughlin China company, the largest pottery in the world, is operating four plants at 100 percent capacity, according to Logan. He also reports the Edwin M. Knowles China company working in full force, with additional kilns being erected. Plants at Wellsburg and Weirton are operating close to capacity.

Mr. Logan said that the big plant of the Follansbee Brothers company is working in full, and that with an active national advertising campaign in progress this company expects to continue to operate capacity production. The Sheet Metal Specialty company, which uses products manufactured by the first named company, also located at Follansbee is also working at capacity production. The Jefferson Glass company is operating at 80 percent, with the outlook good.

FARM AGENTS TO MEET MARCH 19

Farm bureau agents and home demonstration agents from eastern Ohio, West Virginia, and Western Pennsylvania counties, will represent their respective districts in a meeting to be held at Waddington farm next Monday, March 19.

Plans will be discussed at the session for the annual Tri-State Urban Rural Relations conference, to be held in the near future.

J. Earle Romine, Ohio county farm agent, who is taking an active part in the program, announced that one of the chief discussions of the conference will center about a view of closer relationship between city and country interests.

Birth Announced.
Announcement is made of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Allan McLane of Woodlawn, Pa. They formerly resided in Chester.

BORAH CALLS FOR FUNDS TO PAY SINCLAIR

Senator Opens Drive to Wipe Out G. O. P. Deficit.

$5,000 MAILED

Idahoan Appeals to Rank and File of Party.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Senator Borah's single handed campaign to raise sufficient funds to repay Harry F. Sinclair for the $160,000 in bonds he donated to help wipe out the Republican's party 1920 deficit was in full swing today.

The Idaho senator decided to go after the contributions from the rank and file after the Republican national committee had made no move to solicit such a fund.

More than $5,000 already has been sent to Borah. The money will be deposited in a bank as fast as it is received. For the time being, Borah will handle the contributions with his present office force but may engage helpers later in the contributions warrent.

Senate leaders were reluctant to discuss the plan today. Senators Curtis of Kansas and Willis of Ohio, both candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, asked for more time to study the question before commenting.

On the other hand, Senator Couzens (D.) of Michigan said he did not favor the idea, explaining that "Sinclair won't get a cent of my money."

The Sinclair contribution was revealed by the Teapot Dome committee. Will Hays, ex chairman of the Republican national committee, exchanged the bonds for cash contributions, the testimony disclosed.

TWO TRAINMEN HURT IN CRASH

HARRISBURG, March 16.—Two trainmen were injured, one probably fatally, and passengers on the Baltimore local of the Pennsylvania railroad were shaken up, when the local ploughed into the wreckage of two freight trains which were wrecked at Marsh Run, near New Cumberland, Pa., early today.

Levi Simmers, 25, of Wilmington, Del., engineer of the southbound passenger train, was scalded on the body, face and arms. Hospital attaches said he cannot live.

Luther Williams, 23, of Wilmington, fireman on the passenger train, also was burned.

ATLANTIC CITY HOTEL OWNERS TURN THUMBES DOWN ON BEAUTY PAGEANT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 16.—Reluctantly, and after most careful consideration, Atlantic City has turned thumbs down on the annual beauty pageant.

There will be no parade of beautiful young American girls in bathing suits along the boardwalk for the purpose of selecting a "Miss America" this year, or any other year. For, it has been decided, such spectacles are not truly representative of young American girlhood but are largely a "congregation of girls seeking personal advertising and profit."

Instead, plans may be considered for some other form of annual event designed to broadcast the name of Atlantic City.

Beauty contests have come in for severe criticism and residents of the city have taken the matter to heart. The decision to do away with the pageants was reached after weeks of general discussion.

Future contests could not be held without the support of the hotel men. They held a three-hour meeting during which it was definitely decided to abandon the annual pageant.

Rev. B. O. Campbell Accepts Arizona Call

Rev. Alfred Walls, Steubenville, Will Become Acting Pastor of Anderson Church.

Rev. B. O. Campbell, pastor of the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church, West Ninth street, since last September, left yesterday for Tucson, Arizona, where he has accepted a call.

Rev. and Mrs. Campbell, who speak Latin and Spanish fluently, will conduct classes in these two languages in Tucson in connection with their church activities. They were located in South America for several years, but came to East Liverpool from Alliance.

Rev. Alfred Walls, Steubenville, formerly of this city, temporarily will have charge of the Anderson church pending the selection of a successor to Dr. Campbell. Rev. Mr. Walls, who was pastor of the church for several years, will come here each Sunday.

The retiring minister and his wife were tendered a farewell reception by members of the Anderson church Wednesday night, about 75 being in attendance. Talks were made by Rev. Warren O. Hawkins, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. C. B. Conn of the Orchard Grove Avenue church, and members of the congregation. Vocal duets were rendered by Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Conn and also by Mrs. R. B. Stevenson and Miss Dora Sahnor. Miss Hazel Bradford gave a reading. Lunch was served.

Need Two Schools

(Continued From Page One) A national conference which will be held in Columbus April 12, 13 and 14, Councilman George A. Hughes appeared before the board to complain about the condition of the sidewalk in front of the Third street school.

Hughes was advised that the sidewalk would be repaired during the summer. The board voted to permit the Maplewood school to accept an American flag from the members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

MAN AND BOY DIE IN FIRE

Woman Fractures Her Skull in Leap in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—Trapped in their bedrooms after their home in South Philadelphia had been transformed into a raging furnace early today, Harry Hendricks, 65, a widower, and Jacob Liskosky, 7, were burned to death while policemen, firemen and neighbors attempted to rescue them.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Liskosky, is in a critical condition in a hospital with a fractured skull sustained when she leaped from a second-story window, she also was burned severely.

The fire is believed to have been caused by defective wiring.

Yynx Escapes

(Continued From Page One) from tree to tree until at last exhausted, it dropped to the ground. Dohm, his hands encased in heavy gloves, ran after the animal, threw his coat over it and with the aid of the other two, trussed it up securely and carried it to his home near Currie.

The beast is about 20 inches long, a foot and a half in height and has a brown, catlike body. The prevalent theory is that it is a lynx which crossed the ice from Canada.

Silent Courtship

(Continued from Page One) ago. He was strolling around the gaming room of the Casino when his eyes fell upon the tall, slender chestnut haired girl. The effect was electrical. Turning to one of his three aides, he said: "I must know her. I am madly in love with her." "The ex-maharajah left the Casino and retired to his suite, probably to have one of his aides read poetry to him, as is his custom when in a romantic mood.

Hamilton Wins

The rest of the evening will be given over to class A teams. Columbus Central will play Toledo Liberty at 7:30 p. m., Canton McKinley will meet East Liverpool at 8:30; and at 9:30 p. m., Akron South will meet the winner of the Hamilton.

No Practice Allowed. Quarters are eight minutes with a one-minute rest between quarters and ten minute rest between halves.

The officials are Fred Trautman, Bucyrus; A. B. Long, Newark and R. W. Finsterwald of Athens. L. N. Drake of Columbus is the official scorer while R. A. Howard, Wauseon is the time keeper.

No practice in the coliseum was allowed before the tournament although each team is given a practice period before each game they play.

The Ohio High School Athletic association has provided lodging and meals for every player in the tournament so that the tournament will not cost a player one cent of actual expense.

Rooms at the Fort Hayes, Southern, Chittenden hotels here have been reserved for the players. Each player will be allowed fifty cents for each meal. Even the transportation was provided for by the association.

The squad that wins the state tournament has an optional choice of going to Chicago to compete in the national tournament to be held there April 3-7. It is understood here that the championship team of nearly every state in the union will be represented in the national meet.

USE CHICAGO PLAN IN HOLD-UP

NEW YORK, March 16.—Chicago hold-up methods were borrowed by two New York gunmen today when they held up the office of Peter Clark, manufacturer of stage equipment, with a portable machine gun and revolvers, and escaped with a $4,400 payroll delivered 15 minutes earlier by an armored truck.

BELL BOY PAYS DEATH PENALTY FOR KILLING

Eddie Peppers, 21, is Electrocutated at Columbus.

DENIED CHARGE

Convicted of Murder of Woman at Gallipolis.

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Walking silently, and unassisted, into the death chamber at Ohio penitentiary, Eddie Peppers, 21-year-old Negro bell boy, of Gallipolis, last night went to his death in the electric chair, still maintaining his innocence of a murder for which he was convicted last November.

"I'd rather not talk about it," he told the penitentiary chaplain when asked, a few hours before the execution, to tell the true story of the killing.

The youth was found guilty of attacking and strangling, with a towel, Mrs. Florence Buck, postmistress of Grimms Landing, W. Va. The murder was committed in a hotel room at Gallipolis last August 15.

Peppers, a porter in the hotel, confessed but later repudiated his confession, declaring it was given under force. Two shocks were required for the execution last night. Physicians pronounced him dead at 8:10 o'clock.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 16.—American railroad stocks forced to the front as the leaders in the forward movement at the beginning of trading today. Demand for the rail shares hinged on the prospect "of an amicable adjustment of the Truck-Line railroad merger situation at an important conference of the transportation heads in this city today. Not much attention was paid to the $50,000,000 increase in brokerage loans as reported by the reserve board after the close of Thursday's market.

Promptly asserting its leadership of the industrial stocks, General Motors raced ahead on heavy trading to 167 1/2 in the first half-hour for a new gain of nearly 5 points. Hudson jumped 4 points to 99 7/8, and various pool specialties were up 1 to 5 points. Bullish activities were encouraged by the fact that the reserve bank heads had not resumed the selling of government bonds in a "wild" week on the stock exchange.

Hogs—Receipts 1,000 head; market active to higher; prime heavy hogs, $8.75 to $9.00; heavy mixed, $8.90 to $9.15; mediums, $8.90 to $9.15; heavy Yorkers, $9.25 to $9.35; light Yorkers, $8.25 to $8.75; pigs, $7.25 to $7.75; roughs, $7.25; extreme heavies, $8.40 to $8.60.

BANDITS SHOOT TWO, GET $12,000

MADISON, Ill., March 16.—Four bandits shot A. W. Baltz, cashier and Frank Smith, watchman, of the First National bank here today in a holdup in front of the bank and escaped with payroll money estimated to be from $12,000 to $15,000. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

Smith was only slightly wounded in the arm, but Baltz may die.

Crowds Visit Stores

(Continued from Page One) line and is a creation of ruffles that gradually grow wider and wider tiller as they reach the hem line. The top ruffle which finishes off the neck and serves as cap sleeves completely hides any thinness of chest and shoulders that might detract from her appearance.

For afternoon wear the same girl finds an adaption of tiers more suitable when a satin backed crepe fabric is used. All the good features of the other dress are retained yet they are worked out so differently that no one would suspect that frocks of this type have a double purpose.

The afternoon dress is a slip-on model despite the appearance of a side fastening which is given by the side closing of the collar and the tiers.

Motorist Killed at Crossing

WARREN, O., March 16.—V. F. Brizely, 38, was dead here today, the third victim of the same crossing in eight days. His auto last night was struck by a trolley car at the Niles street crossing where two other persons met death earlier this month.

LEGION SOCIETY MEETS IN SALEM

Members of Columbiana County Voltaire No. 273, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, will meet for a promenade in the American Legion home, Salem, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. An entertainment will follow the initiation. Refreshments will be served.

Local Legionnaires will attend the meeting, the contingent leaving the Legion hall, 633 Dresden avenue, at 7 o'clock. Cecil Pearce and B. A. McKeever, both of this city, are officers of the volture.

ABANDON HOPE FOR FLIERS

Captain Hinchcliffe and Elsie Mackay Believed Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Faint hopes for the rescue of the Hinchcliffe-Mackay trans-Atlantic flyers was revived for a time today with the receipt of advices by the state department that an unidentified plane had been sighted by a Canadian Pacific railroad construction gang in an isolated section about 25 miles northeast of Greenville, Maine.

The report came to the state department from the Canadian legation.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Fear that Captain Walter R. Hinchcliffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay are lost became certain today.

Three days have passed since the British "ace" and the daughter of Lord Incheape took off from Cranwell airdrome, England, in an attempt to be the first to cross the Atlantic by air from Europe.

There remains only the barest possibility that the golden-winged monoplane "endeavor" was forced to make an ocean landing and that the fliers were picked up by a craft unequipped with wireless.

Presbyterian Pastor Occupies Pulpit in Services Under Auspices of Five Congregations.

Dr. J. H. Lawther, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached at the union service of five downtown churches in the pre-Easter revival campaign in the First Baptist church last night. He based his sermon on the parable of the pounds, his text being "Occupy Until I Come."

A vocal duet was rendered by Oliver F. Johnson and O. C. Delaney of the First Presbyterian church. Rev. George C. Westlake of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, offered prayer.

Last service of the week will be conducted tonight, Dr. Lawther being the speaker. A quartet from the Baptist church will sing. There will be no Saturday night services and each congregation will worship in its own church Sunday.

Dr. Lawther said in part last night: "Jesus was the world's and the heaven's greatest nobleman. No blood so noble flowed through any man's veins as the blood which flowed through the veins of Christ. He went away to receive His kingdom and He is coming back again with His kingdom. He is King of all kings."

"We are so taken up with material things that we make the kingdom of God material. It is spiritual and we must be occupied with things that are heavenly. We are not to bury our talents; our money is for God and should be so used. Every gift is from God and sacred trust. Jesus used the word for money and wants us to see the righteousness of all things entrusted to us. If the church would get busy in the sacred calling of Christ a Pentecost would fall upon us once more."

NAMES SUCCESSOR TO S. L. RUHL

Justice C. E. Albright, of Lisbon, today appointed W. A. Albright, Lisbon shoe dealer and Republican, as successor to the late S. L. Ruhl as member of the Center township board of trustees. Ruhl's term would have expired December 31, 1929.

Other applicants were Clyde Freeman, Evan Adams, John Suffi, George Bradbury and Thomas McGaffie.

SANTA CLARA VALLEY BURIES FLOOD DEAD

Estimated Toll in Bursting of Dam is 221.

INQUESTS HELD

Fail to Fix Blame for Disaster in California.

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—With an estimated death toll of 21, the task of burial began today in the desolate regions of the Santa Clara river valley.

Silent vestiges of a night of horror, the bodies of Ventura county's victims reposed in the improvised morgues of four communities, awaiting final disposal.

Attempting to fix no responsibility for the bursting of the giant St. Francis dam, which unleashed 12,000,000 gallons of water upon a sleeping countryside, four separate coroners' juries had returned verdicts ascribing the deaths of these victims simply to the dam break and the resultant flood. The inquests, held at Fillmore, Moor Park, Santa Paula and Oxnard, were necessary in order to release identified bodies to relatives and permit the burial of unidentified and unclaimed corpses.

CECIL HAGAN IS FINED $25

Cecil Hagan was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today after being found guilty of interfering with Patrolman Leslie Curran. He was committed to jail.

Hagan was arrested in the Grand pool room in the Diamond yesterday afternoon. Police charged that he was acting as a lookout.

Curran testified that he visited the place three times within an hour yesterday and that each time Hagan was standing at the top of the steps. Someone ordered "break it up" on his third visit, he said.

"Water seeping into the earth at each end of the dam, weakened the hold of the great concrete wall." It should be someone's business to learn why the dam was built that way—and what danger there is at other dams. Why fragments of broken concrete crumbled in the fingers.

COMPARED with similar disasters, by flood, California's accident is fortunately mild. There was the big flood that drowned all but Noah's family. The rainbow guarantees against a repetition of that wholesale calamity, but small floods have wrought havoc.

Five hundred years ago in Holland, 100,000 were drowned, and at Kaifong, China, nearly 300 years ago, 200,000 lost their lives; 200,000 were drowned at Bengal, in India, 50 years ago. Many times in history eruptions of the sea, river floods and similar disasters have taken 100,000 lives or more at a time. This country can congratulate itself upon the fact that the Mississippi flood of last year, destroying hundreds of millions in property, cost only 200 lives. That was, thanks to admirable work done by the Army and Navy, and to prompt, scientific direction by Herbert Hoover, chosen by President Coolidge, in the emergency.

PRESIDENT LOWELL, able head of Harvard University, liked some plates, 100 years old, dug up on Harvard territory, and decided to have more like them. The original plates were made by the British Wedgwood pottery, and an order for 42,000 Harvard plates has been placed there. It is not important, a few thousand dollars. But money given to Harvard is made in America, produced by American workers, and as a general proposition, institutions and individual rich Americans, might well give their work to those that have made them rich—the workers of America. If Oxford needed 42,000 plates, the job would not be sent to the United States.

Snowbound Michigan Village Gets Food

Physician, Driving Dog Team, Also Carries Medicine to People of Detour.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 16.—The snowbound village of Detour was once more in touch with the outside world today after isolation lasting more than three weeks.
Dr. John F. Deadman, driving a dog team to a sled laden with medicine and food, mushed quietly into the village early this morning. The tired huskies burrowed deeply into the snow for their well earned rest. Dr. Deadman, weary with the strain of a two-day journey of 60 miles, sought the first available shelter.

Dr. Deadman's achievement was all the more remarkable in view of the fact that he has only one leg.
A government transport plane was expected to hop off momentarily from here with 500 pounds of mail and 500 pounds of provisions. The plane will take two persons to the Soo where they will receive medical attention.
Hungary plans to spend $48,000,000 in improving its highways.

The old Story

The girl whose menstrual periods ever cause a broken date, simply hasn't heard about Midol. Menstruation is natural. But the pain is not! Midol will end menstrual pains in five to seven minutes.

This merciful discovery of the specialists is not a narcotic. It does nothing to hinder or hasten the process of menstruation. But it does end the painful part; if you anticipate your time the expectant pain will not appear at all. Tiny tablets, in convenient little aluminum case, fifty cents at any drugstore. It is folly to suffer.

EASTERN OHIO'S HOPES IN BUCKEYE BASKETBALL TOURNEY AT COLUMBUS

"B" Teams Open Program; Potters Play Tonight

Clash With Cantonians at 8:30 p. m.; Keen Battle Forecast When Dayton Stivers and Fremont Quints Meet.

COLUMBUS, March 16.—Nine class A and 10 class B basketball teams, survivors in district tournaments held throughout the state last week, today began their two-day battle for the championship of Ohio.

At 9 o'clock this morning two class B schools, New Concord and Oberlin, battle for the right to get into the second round of play scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Oberlin lost out in the finals last year to Kent State by a 20 to 16 score. Its record is only fair for this season, while New Concord is undefeated. The latter team is known as Muskingum academy and halls as one of two representatives from the eastern district. All odds point to the eastern district team taking the initial game.

Kunkle vs. Tippecanoe City.
At 10 a. m. Kunkle, one of two class B squads from the northwest district, met Tippecanoe City, a team which this season has run up a string of 20 victories without tasting defeat. The latter team hails from the southeastern section of the state. Kunkle's record for the season shows 24 victories in 27 starts. They also figured in last year's title play, having lost out to Marshall in the opening round by a 31 to 25 score. In meeting Tippecanoe City, they face a squad which boasts of two outstanding players in Roscoe and Ross Smith, brothers, and sons of Superintendent C. C. Smith of the high school they represent.

At 11 a. m., the first Class A clash was slated with Hamilton and Hillsboro battling for honor of meeting Akron South, which drew a bye, in the second round of play the same day at 9 p. m. Hamilton has played 15 games this season, being victorious in 13 of the number. The two defeats came at the hands of Springfield and Toledo Libbey. Hillsboro, more of a dark horse, surprised everyone by defeating Portsmouth in the finals of the southeast district tournament. Hillsboro's record for the season is eight victories and 12 losses.

More "B" Games.
Another set of B games will start at 12:30 p. m. Berea and Manchester opening the afternoon program. The former is from the northeastern section of the state, while the latter hails from the southeastern district. Little is known of the record of Berea, but Manchester has a squad averaging about 125 pounds that has turned in 23 wins in 28 starts this season. All games referred to, include tournament play.

At 1:30 p. m. Friday, Marysville, central district Class B champion, will stack up against Strasburg, a squad from the eastern district that has chalked up 18 victories in 22 starts this year. Marysville's record is practically the same, the Union county aggregation owing 19 wins with but two losses in 21 games played to date. The defeats came at the hands of Bell Point and Hyatts.

Marshall vs. Margaretta.
At 2:30 p. m., Margaretta of Castalia will oppose Marshall in another Class B attraction. The latter school reached the semi-final round last season before being eliminated by Kent State, which copied the state title. As far as is known Marshall has been beaten but once this season, that coming at the hands of Leesburg. This clash should be of the close variety.

Fremont and Stivers, strong Class A rivals for state honors, will tangle at 3:30 p. m. Of all the schools entered in the A division this year, Stivers is the only squad to be returned after appearing here last season. In meeting Fremont, they are facing the strongest team in the northwestern section of the state. Fremont has won 18 of 21 games this season, the defeats coming at the hands of Sandusky, Fostoria, and Tiffin Junior Home. This clash is expected to be one of the best battles of the tournament.

Brief Intermission.
A two hour intermission is scheduled following the Stivers-Fremont clash, play again being scheduled to start at 6:30 p. m. between the winner of the New Concord-Oberlin and Kunkle-Tippecanoe City Class B contests. This will put the winner in the semi-final round.

At 7:30 p. m., Central High of Columbus, accompanied by its huge school band, will offer strong resistance to a group of athletes from Toledo Libbey. Central won its way into the state classic by defeating Lancaster last week. The Pirates have a record of 15 victories in 20 starts this season, while the "Maumee City" aggregation has turned in 11 wins in 16 starts. One of its victories was over Hamilton High.

Close Battle Expected.
Starting at 8:30 p. m., Canton McKinley and East Liverpool, two outstanding quintets from the northeast and eastern sections, respectively, will battle for top honors. McKinley, which has been a sensation of recent weeks, has turned in 14 victories in 23 starts. Some of the teams to defeat Canton are East Liverpool, Akron South, Columbus South and Hamilton. East Liverpool has annexed 18 of 23 battles. They have been trimmed by Akron South and Central, East Palestine, Salem and Dover.

The final game of the day is slated to start at 9:30 p. m. Akron South meeting the winner of the Hamilton-Hillsboro clash. The former team is one of two representatives from the northeastern section of the state. After the first day's play, four teams will be in the running for the title in both the A and B divisions. The semi-finals will start at 1 p. m. Saturday, with the finals being scheduled for the same day, starting at 8 p. m.

Antlers Billed in Toronto

Clash With Brown's New Quint Saturday Night.

Ray Adam's Antler passers of the Columbiana County cage circuit will have a stiff job on their hands tomorrow night when they tackle the Browns News quint of Toronto, at the Toronto high school gymnasium.

The Newsies played the World Famous Indians last night at Toronto and forced the Redskins to step all the way.

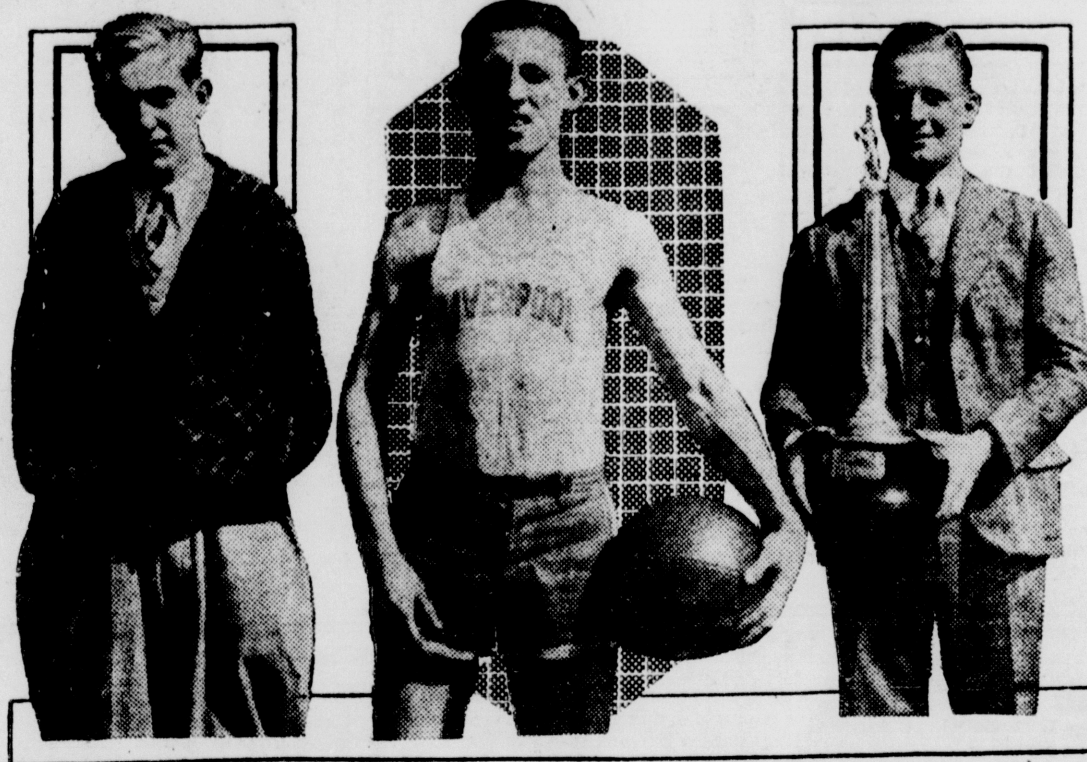

Thorpe's outfit finished ahead, 47 to 38, but the Indians were strengthened over the club that played here Wednesday. Judy Baseman, of the Washington Palace club of the American Professional League, jumped center for the Redskins. Baseman stands 6 feet, 7 inches, and getting the tip was merely a matter of routine for him.

The Elks have scheduled two games with the Toronto aggregation, the second of which will be staged on the local court next week. Date for this attraction will be determined by the managers tomorrow night.

On Monday night the Antlers will clash with the Midland Collegians in the second game of their three-game series, this time at Midland. The Elks easily won the opener, but expect more trouble Monday.

Manager Adam requests all players to report at the Elks' club tonight at 6:45. They will leave here on the 7:05 interurban.

HEENEY PLANNING EUROPEAN TRIP
NEW YORK, March 16.—While Tex Rickard's matchmaker was endeavoring to sign Tom Heenev today for a final elimination bout with Johnny Risko here around May 1, Heenev was preparing to sail for England tonight for a six-weeks' vacation. Heenev has earned nearly $150,000 in a little more than a year of fighting here and intends to enjoy life for a while.

Christians Jump Notch in League Race

Defeat Baptists, 59 to 36; Presbyterians Win.

The Christians put themselves into the running for the title and the Baptists out of it in a 59-36 Sunday school league contest last night on the M. P. court. The Baptists, as a result of the defeat, drop into the second division, and the Christians are tied with the Lutherans for second place, both but a half game behind the M. P. and St. Stephens.

The Presbyterians ran up a 41 to 20 count on the Orchard Groves in the other game on the night's schedule with Burbick and Salsberry pelted the hoops for 11 and 12 points, respectively. Dunlap led the opposition scorers.

Wolfe, Francis Headline K. of C. Boxing Program

Slated for Four Rounds at Tuesday Smoker Other District Amateur to Show Wares on Council's Card.

MARKING the first of a series of shows to be held during March, April and May, a smoker, which will bring together some of the best ring talent in the East Liverpool-Wellsville district, will be presented under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus in the K. of C. hall in the Ingram building, Diamond, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Plans for the offering, which will include sixteen rounds of boxing, interspersed with a musical program, were announced today by "Mickey" McVey, smoker manager, who will also referee the bouts.

Headlining the show will be a four-round match between Sharky Wolfe, of East Liverpool, and Kid Francis, of Wellsville, who will tip the scales at 133 pounds.

The semi-final will see two other well known boxers, Kenney Davis, of East Liverpool, and Jimmy Checkler, of Wellsville, in action. These boys, fighting at 133 pounds, also are billed for four rounds.

In addition, two preliminaries, featuring East Liverpool lads, will round out the program.

Intermission highlights will be vocal solos by John and Len Coleman and John J. Hughes.

The smoker is open to the public.

ROBINS TO PLAY RED SOX TODAY

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 16.—Smashing under a 3 to 2 defeat inflicted by the Washington Senators, the Brooklyn Robins journeyed to Bradenton, Fla. today to meet the Boston Red Sox.

FAVOR FLOWERS TO BEAT PETROLLE

NEW YORK, March 16.—Bruce Flowers of New Rochelle, N. Y., the best colored lightweight in the east, is a 7 to 5 favorite to defeat Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D., in their ten-round bout here tonight.

Here are Joe Hurst's East Liverpool High school passers, eastern Ohio champions, who are in Columbus today awaiting the bell that will send them into action against Canton McKinley tonight at 8:30 o'clock in their first state tournament contest.

Bottom—George Vincent, student manager; Elmer English, captain; J. E. Hurst, coach, holding trophy won at eastern Ohio tourney.

ment. He clinched first place by beating Augie Kieckhefer last night, the victory increases his lead over Allen Hall to four games and his advantage over Johnny Layton to five games.

Making a high run of five, Hoppe defeated Kieckhefer in 56 innings, by a score of 59 to 35.

Local "Y" Tankers In Action

Take on Stubbers Here Tomorrow in Return Meet.

The Y. M. C. A. swimming team will hold their last home meet with the Steubenville "Y" boys tomorrow afternoon at 7 o'clock. The locals will try to turn the tables on the down river aggregation to whom they bowed in a meet recently at Steubenville.

Captain Johnny Stanko and Coyne, the Stubbers' stars, will present some stiff opposition for the Potters. The local squad includes Joseph Chetwin, captain; Samuel Brown, James Bowen, Kenneth Salsberry, Robert Dietz, Franklin Edwards, George Ganas, Richard Stewart, Robert Hall, Robert Weaver, Gale Davis, Paul Dyke and Kenneth Stevenson.

Brown, Hall and Weaver will compete in the plunge for distance; Stevenson and Brown in the 25-yard back stroke; Dietz, Stewart and Salsberry in the 25-yard breast stroke; Chetwin and Ganas in the 50-yard free style; Chetwin and Edwards in the 25-yard free style; Stewart and Dietz in fancy diving. The relay team will be chosen from the following men: Chetwin, Davis, Bowen, Edwards, Ganas and Dyke.

Four Rookies Battling for Philly Jobs

Ex-Eastern Leaguers Have Chance to Make Squad.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 16.—Four Phillies rookies were farmed out to the Pittsfield, Mass., team of the Eastern League, last season. With Charles Bates, of the Athletics who also was there, they nearly won the Eastern League pennant for the club. All four Phils are now in camp working hard here, for every one has a chance to make the team. Three of them Ed Baecht, August Walsh and Ed Taber, are pitchers, and any pitcher who can produce has a job with the team any time.

The fourth, Dennie Southern, is an outfielder, and there is a spot with the Phils that can be filled by an outfielder who can make the grade. Southern is a speed demon, a beautiful fielder and looks like a hitter. When he first joined the Phils he parked several homers in the left-field bleachers. If he has improved as he should have with minor league experience, it is going to be hard to keep him off the team.

Of the pitchers, just what they will do will determine their fates. Walsh led the Eastern League last season, and Patsy O'Rourke, the Phil's scout is predicting big things for him. Baecht first started with the Phils like a boy wonder. That was two years ago. Up at Pittsfield he went fine until he broke an ankle and was later spiked.

Taber has a keen mind, which is his best asset, but he has something on the ball too.

Manchuria now has 72 people per square mile and Japan 390.

Manx, the native language of the Isle of Man, is passing, only about 1,000 of the island's 50,000 inhabitants being familiar with the tongue.

Hendricks Has Faith in His 1928 Redleg Entry

Deprecates Strength of Giants, Bucs, Cubs and Cards; Lists Reasons for Cincinnati Club's Improvement.

Editor's note: This is the tenth of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh dealing with developments in various major league training camps. A final article of the series will follow.

By Davis J. Walsh.
ORLANDO, Fla., March 16.—You probably haven't heard the one about the legless runner beaten to a standstill, because I just made it up all by myself. Well, the Cincinnati Reds have been standing pretty still in the matter of their an ageing personnel these several years but managerial optimism ever is rampant in the spring and so John Hendricks informed me today before hauling off and going to Tampa with his Reds, that if the club looked any better it might begin to get scared of itself or something.

It made no particular difference that his outfield is not what it was, that you can see his pitchers growing older right before your eyes and that his infield is only fair, at best. John Charles Hendricks said everything was all right and that settled it.

Hendricks Sizes 'em Up.
"You can bet all your pocket money that the Pirates won't be as good as they were, regardless of the trade for Adams," quoth John. "As for the Giants, they can't be as good, after getting rid of Hornsby and Grimes. It's a cinch that Aldridge, even if he signs, won't win as many games as Grimes did. The Cubs hurt their infield by trading Adams and, from all I hear, the Cardinals are shot."

And if you inquire, why will the Reds be an improvement, Hendricks will enlighten you. For instance, that last year Hughie Critz, star second baseman, held out so long that he never really got started; that Cary Mays was useless after June 1, owing to an operation; that Eppa Rixey injured his wrist and was out for 30 days, the old work house interval, and that Horace Ford, shortstop, was unavailable in forty ball games. This latter, according to some version, might be regarded as quite a break, at that, but Mr. Hendricks prefers to see things his own way.

Good Pitching Staff.
Donohue, of course, will be in there sooner or later, to help round out a right good pitching staff, which includes also Mays, Rixey, Adolfo Luque, the Cuban; Frank "Jackie" May, left-hander, and Fred Lucas, the flower of the flock on last year's performances. Rixey, Mays and Luque are getting no younger very rapidly and Donohue may not prove to be the man he was. Luque looks just as good as ever he did.

Ray Kolp, North Canton, Ohio, member of the 1927 staff, is again with us but Hendricks is saving all of his eloquence for James C. Edwards, the Pontotoc, Miss., left-hander, drafted from Seattle. The "Jim-Joe" Edwards of Cleveland Indian days apparently is with us this time indefinitely.

Lawrence Amzen, Newport, Ky., semi-pro; Ken Ash, from Petersburg, Va.; Jim Beckman, with the Reds last year; Pete Jablonowski, back; again from Hartford, Conn. Bill Miller, Chicago semi-pro; Allus Edward Sweeney, of Orlando and Grenada, Miss.; Dick Wyckoff, of Springfield, Mass., and Osborne, Kansas, and Harold Williams are here today and probably gone tomorrow.

Same Three Catchers.
He has the same three catchers, Eugene Hargrave, of St. Paul; Val Picinich, of Leonia, N. J., and Clyde Sukeforth, of Medford, Mass., so that's all right or I guess it is. George Kelly, the San Francisco highboy, will play first base; Critz, one of the best in baseball, will be at second; Ford at shortstop and Charley Dresen, of Decatur, Ill., at third.

A good infield on the right side; just fair on the left, and the infield substitutes are much the same. Wally Pipp again is available as utility first baseman but he hasn't long to go. Clarke Pittinger of Toledo again is ready for more. Emmitt McCann, up again, this time from Columbus, may or may not stick.

Rush was traded last year. Rubo Bressler followed him only a few days ago and so the old Red outfit is no more. Their departure more or less leaves Curt Walker, or Beeville, Texas, Bill Zittmann, or Nutley, N. J., and Ethan Allen, of Cincinnati, in charge. Martin Callaghan of Seattle and Norwood, Mass., and Everett Purdue, of Seattle and Beatrice, Neb., are in there swinging and to no slight effect.

The Reds, as I see them, are just a ball club; not bad but not too good either.

West Virginia Expelled From College Group

Athletes Paid for Services Association's Charge.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The University of West Virginia is no longer a member of the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools as a result of action taken at the organization's annual meeting here.

The association's executive committee expelled the West Virginia school on the grounds that student athletes were paid for their services and for inadequate supervision of athletic funds. The committee also charged irregularity in recruiting talent from prep and high schools.

The expulsion action followed the reading of a report by Dr. George F. Zook of the University of Akron, Akron, Ohio. Delegates representing 251 schools approved the expulsion order.

AT YOUNGSTOWN—Rosey Stoy, Lancaster, outpointed Al Corbett, Cleveland, (10) (featherweights).

K. O. Conley, Pittsburgh, outpointed Ray Carroll, Youngstown (4) (heavyweights).

Bobby Fleming, Pittsburgh, outpointed Jim Manos, Youngstown (4) (bantamweights).

Oklahoma Boy Lap Winner in Bunion Derby

Arthur Newton Retains Total Time Lead.

SELIGMAN, Ariz., March 16.—Claremore, Okla., became permanently affixed on the world's map through the wisecracking of its favorite son, Will Rogers, and now another boy from that town, Andrew Payne, focuses attention there today.

Payne, husky and twenty-one, through consistent performance in the first twelve days of C. C. Pyle's coast to coast bunion derby and winning the Peach Spring-Seligman trek of 38.3 miles, today looked as the real dark horse of the trans-continental event as the field of runners swept on forty-two miles to Williams, perched up and above sea level, Payne's time for the 435.7 miles from Los Angeles is 74:46:12.

Arthur Newton, the Rhodesian rambler and leader in the race with a total time of 67:10:30 was loud in his tribute to Payne.

Newton's lead over Payne is 7 hours 35 minutes 42 seconds, while Dr. Arne Soumin, Detroit, medic, retained his hold on third place. Seligman, 5,300 feet above sea level, played the good samaritan to the runners.

Reports from Williams said that they would encounter four inches or more of snow there.

B. & O. FIVE TAKES Y LEAGUE LEAD

By winning last night's game by forfeit from the P. and L. E. Carl Bettridge's B. and O. basketballers took the lead in the "Y" league race. The forfeit victory assured the B. and O. passers at least a tie for first place honors in the "Y" race for the second half, for the Nickel Plates, their nearest competitors, must win from the C. and P. Monday night in the last scheduled game of the second half to be on even terms with the B. and O.

If the Nickel Plates win Monday night the game to decide the winner of the second half will be arranged later.

League Standing.	W.	L.	Pct.

YANKEES' STAR PITCHER SIGNS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16.—Waite Hoyt is no longer a holdout. The star pitcher of the world's champion Yankees has signed a two-year contract.

The Yanks played like sand-lotters in losing to the Braves again yesterday, 6 to 0.

GIANTS LAUNCH SERIES WITH A's

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 16.—The New York Giants began a five-game series with the Athletics today. Manager McGraw, whose instep was injured by a batted ball will be unable to go to Florida with the team next week.

The Giants swamped Georgia University yesterday, 11 to 1.

Reconditioned NASH CARS

Lead the World in USED CAR value

One of the very best used cars to buy is a Reconditioned Nash.

At the great Nash factories, extra hours of extra care have gone into its manufacture. Before its first owner gets it, every mechanical unit is tested again and again, to be certain it is right.

Then, when its first owner comes in and buys "another Nash," because this one has been so satisfactory, we take it, and our experienced Nash mechanics test it. They discover what it needs, and do everything necessary to give its second owner equally fine results.

Parts that show the slightest wear are replaced by new and genuine Nash parts.

It costs you no more to buy one of these Reconditioned Nash cars than an ordinary used car. We price them low for immediate clearance, and to acquaint more people with the many advantages of Nash ownership.

Come in, look over the unusually fine selection on hand at this time. Then see how easily you can own one of this better type of used cars on our exceptionally easy terms.

Parking Riddle May Be Solved in South

Clarence Saunders, of Memphis Heads Corporation to Launch
Auto-tower.

MEMPHIS.—Solution of the automobile parking problem of America may go to a million dollar Memphis organization, the Auto-Tower Corporation, whose president, Clarence Saunders, millionaire grocer, has announced the sale of 15,000 shares of stock and is ready to launch the adventure. Erection and sale on a royalty operation basis of steel constructed towers with a series of lifts or spaces in two parallel sections and connected on an endless chair system—operating much the same as the ferris wheel—is the basis on which the corporation is formed.

Sure Way to End Muscular Pains

Don't be miserable with backache and pain from sore, strained muscles and ligaments brought about by hard labor, violent exercise or any other cause. Apply a Johnson's Red Cross Kidney Plaster over the sore part and the pain, soreness and stiffness will leave you—almost immediately. Johnson's Red Cross Kidney Plaster ends pain like magic because the medication on the plaster penetrates through the skin, goes direct to the affected parts, and begins to act at once and its marvelous effectiveness in relieving pain continues as long as the plaster remains on the body. Thousands of hard-working men and women have found this the simplest, easiest, quickest, surest way to relieve pain from sore and strained muscles. Do not suffer another minute. Get a Red Cross Kidney Plaster at any drug store. From the moment you put it on you will be astounded at its marvelous effectiveness.

GETS TWO YEARS FOR RUM BRIBE

Former U. S. Commissioner at Toledo Sentenced to Atlanta.

TOLEDO, O., March 16.—Frank G. Thomson, former U. S. commissioner, today was under sentence of two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta after being found guilty, late yesterday, of accepting a bribe from a bootlegger. He was also fined $1,250. Thomson was tried on a charge of conspiracy along with Jack Thomas and Miss Ruth Hollinger, Thomson's secretary. Thomson was sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta, while Miss Hollinger was acquitted. The jury deliberated four hours. The three were arrested last October by U. S. Prohibition Commissioner William Appleman. Appleman said Charles Rafful reported to him that he had been approached by Thomas who offered to have a liquor charge, pending against Rafful, dismissed for the payment of a sum of money. Appleman testified that he saw Rafful give $500, in marked money to Thomas, and that the latter took the money to Thomson's office and turned it over to Thomson's stenographer.

Last of Cork-Cutters Still Plying His Trade In Small London Shop

LONDON.—Lepold Garas, the last of the famous hand cork-cutters, is still plying his trade in a one-roomed shop here. Garas has been cutting corks by hand for sixty years, and his skill is almost uncanny to the layman. With a chopper the size of an axe he can cut pieces of cork as fine as an apple-rind. "It is as easy as cutting butter," according to Garas. With Garas will disappear his old-time industry, the inventiveness of man having produced machines which can cut cork by the thousands in as much time as Garas takes to cut a hundred.

California University Spends $12,000 on Memorial Stadium

BERKELEY, Cal. — The turf grid-iron at California Memorial stadium became a field in fact as plows dug deep into the earth, the first step in a $12,000 reconditioning program for the habitat of the University of California Golden Bear footballers. The program under the direction of H. W. Shepherd, assistant professor of landscape architecture at the univer- which it will be treated with chemicals to neutralize lime. It will consequen- ly be seeded and players will be for- bidden to use the new turf for spring practice. A $7,000 rubber covering has been ordered that will cover the entire field.

OCEAN LINES TO HELP WATCH FOR ICEBERGS

Cooperation With U. S. Coast Guard Urged.

ATLANTIC JOB
Patrol Vessels Ready for Spring and Summer Work.

WASHINGTON. — Trans-Atlantic steamship corporations have been asked to cooperate with the United States coast guard during the spring and early summer in the effort to keep shipping adequately warned of the presence of icebergs.

Commandant F. C. Billard, of the coast guard, designated the Cutters Modoc and Mojave, two of the crack vessels of the service, to carry on the international ice patrol this season. The patrol is provided for by the international convention for the safety of life at sea signed in London in 1913 and 1914.

Ship commanders were asked to radio the following information to the coast guard cutters:

To Make Report.
(1) Icebergs or obstructions sighted should be reported giving date, time, latitude, longitude, set and drift and in the case of icebergs the temperature of the water at the time sighted.

(2) Surface temperature of the sea water every four hours when between latitude 39 degrees north and 48 degrees north, and between longitude 43 degrees west and 58 degrees west, giving time and place of observation and course and speed of the vessel.

"This data will facilitate the drawing of a temperature curve which will be useful in locating the branches of the Labrador current," the coast guard said. "It is also requested that radio operators assist, as far as practicable from operating at the above times in order to lessen radio interference."

The ice patrol vessels' general radio call letters are NIDK, a special call for the ship actually on patrol. It should not be confused with the regular radio call letters assigned to individual vessels.

Ice-Information will be broadcast in plain, concise English and will give the position of the patrol vessel, location and description of the ice and other necessary data. This information will be given at any time to any ship with which the patrol vessels can communicate.

Object of Patrol.
The object of the ice patrol service is to locate the icebergs and field nearest to the trans-Atlantic steamship lanes.

Safe Relief

You need not guess what Tonsiline contains. We print the ingredients on every bottle. They are known to be reliable for the treatment of inflamed conditions of the throats and mouths of children and adults and have been favorites in the prescriptions of physicians for many years. Over thirty years use proves Tonsiline is the perfect combination of these valuable drugs. Don't accept a substitute. Insist on the bottle with the long necked fellow on it.

Question: Why should young children receive emulsified cod-liver oil regularly?

Answer: While milk is the child's best individual food, it is deficient in rickets-preventing vitamin.

That is why so many young children take emulsified cod-liver oil as in

SCOTT'S EMULSION

SH-h-h! Little Whispers About A Bad Breath

There is nothing more common or more disagreeable than a bad breath. And the sad part of it is, that while we're quick to detect it in others, we seldom think of ourselves.

A sour, "gassy" or acid stomach is most always the cause of Bad Breath, and it doesn't matter how often you brush your teeth, wash your mouth, or how little or what you eat. If your "stomach's off" your breath will tell the story. But if you'll keep your stomach sweet and clean and free from acid you won't have to worry about a bad breath, gas, sourness or belching.

To cleanse and sweeten a sour stomach; to neutralize the acid and purify the breath, nothing is easier or better to use than ordinary Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained in small quantities at any good drug store. Use it after every meal. Bisurated Magnesia is a powerful anti-acid and stomach corrective. A pure product, pleasant, harmless and quickly effective. Warning: Do not confuse Bisurated Magnesia—a Chemist's product—with any of the Magnesia preparations such as milk or citrate. Bisurated Magnesia comes only in powder or tablets. Ask your druggist.

It will be the duty of the patrol vessels to determine the southerly, easterly and western limits of the ice and to keep in touch with these fields as they move southward in order that radio messages may be sent out daily, giving the whereabouts of the ice.

During the months of March, April, May and June, or longer if necessary, the Modoc and Mojave will base on Halifax, Nova Scotia. The patrol will be continuous. Four radio broadcasts will be transmitted by the vessels on patrol. Each broadcast will be preceded by the general call QST on 600 meters, while the ice broadcast following will be given on 1,713 and 706 meters.

CHAPLIN "CIRCUS"
COMING TO TOWN

"STAND, DELIVER"
SCREEN WINNER

From the thumping praise-drums of Hollywood and the snare typewriters of Times Square come advance notices of a new movie, "The Circus," which comes to the American theatre Monday. In this glorification of the cacophonous pageant of every childhood there is paradoxically, no noise; for it is of the silent drama. "The Circus" was written, produced, directed and acted in its chief role by Charlie Chaplin.

Recently, sophisticated magazines have been telling in droll paragraphs of a visit made by Chaplin to New York last summer, when he became acquainted with the Fettebaums and Lowers of 10 M. Milt Gross. They do say, too, that Chaplin and Gross sat in a Sixth Avenue restaurant and talked into the latest hours and that the result of their converse was an invitation from the comedian to the comic artist to sit in as advisory counsel on "The Circus." The outgrowth of that conversation seems to have been that Mr. Gross went to Hollywood, composed some of the "gags"—as cinematic lexicographers term comic sequences—of "The Circus" and then departed homeward because he liked New York.

While in New York Chaplin explained his employment of "gag men" by asserting the negligibility of plot. He said that in "The Circus" characterization, which is so easily pictured through extreme incidents that amount to moving caricatures, will be the thing. "Producers assert that the public wants this, that or the other—battle, murder and sudden death in evening dress and smoking jacket. But if you have the neatest tailored plot in the world, and have not living characters, you have nothing," said Chaplin. Among the "gag men" and the "gag men" under the commonly designated "his ton" which was erected on the Chaplin lot in Hollywood, there was enacted between Chaplin and his new leading lady, an 18-year-old girl named Merna Kennedy, many incidents which go so far to give atmosphere and character to a film and guffaws to the customers.

Diamonds sent from the Netherlands to this country last year were valued at $2,178,000.

Proving itself a photoplay of rare entertainment quality, Rod La Roque's new star picture, "Stand and Deliver," featuring Lupe Velez and Warner Oland in his support, hit the bullseye on its initial presentation at the Ceramic theatre yesterday.

This is an exceptionally dramatic and thrilling screen story of war and banditry in Greece in which Mr. La Roque appears to fine advantage as an English cavalry officer, Miss Velez as a sprightly Grecian maid and Mr. Oland as a bandit chief. There are numerous engaging scenes and much wholesome comedy. The support rendered by Louis Natheaux, Clarence Burton, Bernard Siegel and Charles Stevens was eminently artistic. The picture was directed by Donald Crisp with ability and good taste.

New Trouble Brewing For Syria and Turkey Over Boundary Dispute

JERUSALEM.—New trouble is brewing between French Syria and Kemal Turkey since the "settlement" of the Turko-Syrian boundary question which seems to have settled nothing, in spite of the efforts of an international commission under General Ernst, a representative of the Danish government.

Although both parties had undertaken to adhere to the commission's decisions, the Kemalists have served notice that the delimitation of the frontier between Nisidin and Jaziriat Ibn Omar, which is satisfactory of the French, is not acceptable to Turkey.

British opinion is inclined to believe that Turkey which has shown recently increased interest in the question of Syria, ostensibly because of smuggling and brigand bands on the frontier is only playing for position in order to drive a better bargain with Syria.

An artificial lake three miles long and as beautiful in its surroundings as any natural lake in the country, is part of the North Wales scheme for providing electric power.

Ritzzy Rosey

Character analysis now claims Ritzzy Rosey's attention, and it is especially interesting since it may be combined with one's shopping. A new novelty is the pastel colored zodac (Chinese handkerchief upon which is painted one of the signs of the Zodiac). Enclosed with each one is a horoscope of the month represented, and the handkerchiefs are supposed to bring good luck.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I met a young man and we went together for a few months. One of my supposed girl friends told me that he had been going out with others and I foolishly believed it. I proceeded to step high, wide and merry. He soon found it out and told me he was through. It made me dreadfully angry to think that there were two stand-ards. I called him everything I could think of and he just closed up like a clam and left.

I haven't seen him since. I found later that this "friend" wanted him enough to lie to me. I believe he cares for me yet for he hasn't stepped out with any one else. Please tell me how I can win him again as a friend. I treated him dreadfully and I am sorry.

FAIRY: You have certainly been a foolish child and I am afraid there is no justification for your actions, my dear! When you heard these rumors, you should have asked your friend about them instead of acting as you did just for spite. Your display of temper was most unworthy particularly since you are in the wrong all the way through this affair. You have known all along that there is a double standard and I cannot believe that you failed to realize it until this boy called your attention to it. I cannot see what you expected to gain by acting this way and I am afraid that you have forfeited this boy's respect as well as his interest. I would advise you to write him a sincere note of apology and explain things as well as you can; you owe him that much anyway and if he does not respond, I must caution you against making any further attempts to regain his friendship. Let this teach you something, my dear, and avoid such unnecessary and unpleasant situations in the future.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

The Alita, twelve hours ahead of the Monotah, had lain hidden in a little cove a few miles from Tahola until the steamer's arrival. There he had gone ashore, made his way to the diminutive town, and thence, unobtrusively had boarded the Monotah—and within a few minutes thereafter he had met Verna Lyle. The Monotah naturally boasted no such dignified official as a purser—her captain and mates were her booking clerks, her buying and selling agents, and navigation was perhaps the least arduous of their multifarious duties—and it was to one of the mates, Parsons, who since had proved himself to be a somewhat garrulous, though really a genial sort of chap, that he, Bob Kingsley, after introducing himself as Harvey Moore, had applied for accommodations. They had been standing in the ship's small but rather well-lighted saloon, when Verna Lyle had come in. The mate had promptly introduced them.

"Miss Lyle," Parsons had said, "I'd like to introduce Mr. Moore. Mr. Moore is going on with us to Singapore. He's had a bit of a thick time with his eyes, he tells me Miss Lyle—Mr. Moore, Miss Lyle's making the round trip with us, Mr. Moore."

Bob Kingsley frowned suddenly. The weather undoubtedly wasn't improving any! The Monotah had just given an unusually vicious pitch, and he realized that the folds of tarpaulin which he had carefully arranged in such a manner that, given any light, say from the opening of the door, he would be able to see out into the body of the store-room, were crumpled together again. He rearranged them, working painstakingly by the sense of touch.

Where was he in that mental resume in which he had been indulging? Oh, yes—his introduction to Verna Lyle.

"I am very glad to meet you, Mr. Moore," she had said; and then, after a slight pause: "And I do hope your eyes will be better soon."

That was all. Nothing else. She had at once left the saloon. But she had left him distinctly disturbed. The blandness in the blue eyes as he had met her had seemed to be just a trifle exaggerated. There had been just the hint of a curious little smile on her lips as she had made reference to his eyes; and just a slight reflection, or so it had seemed, in her voice as she had pronounced his name.

Did she know him? He had not known then; he did not know now. He had seen practically nothing of her—had scarcely spoken to her at all since their first meeting. This was due primarily to himself; for, despite the fact that he believed the possibility of being recognized by Hsi Yan's men was extremely improbable, he had not taken any risks where they were concerned. On the plea that the sun hurt his eyes, he had, during the daytime, kept to his cabin and so out of sight of the native passengers on the lower decks—and had turned night into day. On the few occasions, however, when he had met Verna Lyle on deck after night-fall he was distinctly conscious of the fact that she seemed anxious to avoid him.

It was a curious and most strange situation! The gist of it was, however, that if she knew who he was, she had at least kept her own counsel so far as he could tell—and he owed her his very grateful thanks for that.

Furthermore, he would tell her so some day—if the occasion ever presented itself, and they ever met again when he had settled accounts with Hsi Yan's spawn. That wasn't likely, though. Their lives were too wide apart. He would probably never see her again after the Monotah reached Singapore. Rather too bad! He would have liked to square himself with her. She had amazingly beautiful hands, and she wore less jewelry than any girl he had ever met—not even a ring. Queer that he should have noticed that!

CHAPTER 13.

The Monotah performed a series of gyrations that combined a roll to starboard, a sort of corkscrew twist, and a downward plunge at a most unpleasant angle. Bob Kingsley swore fervently under his breath. She was a rotten sea boat! Also, it was beastly stuffy in here, and, with no ventilation, getting worse and worse all the time. It was no joke sticking it out. Why the devil didn't they come? Was he going to draw a blank after all? He couldn't have made a mistake. This was where they had come every night since he had been aboard.

He ought to know! It had taken him two sleepless nights to find out. What a mess those lower decks were, fore and aft! Pigsties! No fault of the ship's officers. It was the same on every boat that ferried the natives around in these parts. They camped on the decks—so why shouldn't they spit betel juice there, too! They did at home! Malays, most of them, on this trip; though there was an Arab or two, and some East Indians, including a gaunt and staring "holy man" who neither ate nor drank, but who perched stolidly on his haunches and was apparently lost for endless hours in contemplation. Damned fraud—that beggar! In the middle of the night when he thought no one was watching he ate enough for a whole village, had wasn't past digging surreptitiously into a sleeping neighbor's rice pot if it happened to be standing near-by! And then there were the five Chinamen—three on the forward deck, and two on the after deck, who, rather strangely, never seemed to have anything to do with each other, each one of the five keeping to himself as though he considered his compatriots were beneath his notice.

Bob Kingsley's lips drew tight together. He had watched those Chinamen for two nights. He had stolen out to a secluded spot on the forward lower deck the first night, and had lain down among the smells like any one of the sleeping natives around him. It had been simple enough. The deck was in almost complete darkness—but when one's eyes became accustomed to that darkness, one could see a lot. The "holy man," for instance, who, after gorging himself, appeared to be equally "fed up" with contemplation, and stretching himself out on the deck, slept—a little noisily. If one was near enough and listened intently enough, one discovered that the man was even mundane enough to snore!

But it was the Chinamen in whom he was interested—and he had not gone unwarded. A little after midnight on the first night, but at intervals of some five or ten minutes apart, three white forms from three different parts of the deck had risen to their feet, made their way cautiously past the sleeping passengers, and had disappeared in the narrow alleyway amidship that ran between the forward and after lower decks. Excellent! Of the five Chinamen he knew to be aboard this tied up three of them. He had made no effort to follow them, but had taken advantage of their absence from the deck to return to his cabin.

The next night in exactly the same manner he had watched the after deck—and exactly the same thing had happened. The two Chinese passengers on the after deck, at approximately the same hour that the other three Chinamen had left the forward deck the night before, had stealthily and separately disappeared into the same alleyway. That tied up the five of them. About the right number too! There must have been that many in the tight that night in the living-room at Patua.

Obviously then the five Chinamen had a nightly rendezvous somewhere in the alleyway where they could not be seen from either deck. Where was it, exactly; and why did they meet together at all? Their task, from their standpoint at least in view of the fact that they had secured those two ivory idols at Patua, would certainly seem to have been accomplished; and, granting that Singapore was their destination, since the Monotah touched nowhere but at out-of-the-way places en route, why should there be any further communication between them until Singapore was reached, especially as they had gone to such pains to spread the impression that they were, and desired to remain, strangers to one another? He had been a little more than curious about it. It was an ace in his hand.

Denver Teachers Start Local Union of Branch Of American Federation

DENVER—With a charter membership of 51, the Denver local of the American Federation of Teachers has been organized, and R. V. Holwell, vocational teacher has been selected as president.

The teaching personnel in the Denver public schools totals approximately 2,500, and, according to Holwell, steps will be taken to materially increase the membership in the Denver local.

While Denver school authorities plan no counter-move against the so-called "Teachers' Union," Mrs. Florence Curtis Hanson of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Teachers, who aided in the local chapter's organization, encountered little enthusiasm amongst the public school teachers here in behalf of the union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

HUNT AIRMEN IN FLOOD ZONE

Friends Fear For Safety of Two Fliers.

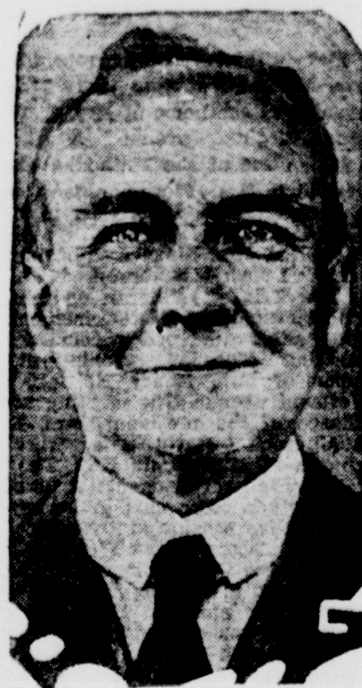

LOS ANGELES, March 16. — Conflicting reports of the fate of Aviators Bert D. Haugh and Santa Monica, and C. W. English of Annandale, who took off in an airplane from Clover Field Tuesday to soar over the flood area, caused friends here to express fear for their safety.

A report from Nehall said the two fliers had made a forced landing late yesterday between Lancaster and the Ridge route, and were uninjured. Later reports said they had not been heard from up to late hour last night.

Because of many accidents due to reckless driving by bus chauffeurs, Mayor Massip of Guanabacoa, Cuba, has started a campaign against speeders both in the city and on country roads.

Sentimental Colors Among New Shades for Women's Spring Styles

LONDON.—Six "sentimental" colors, two poetic shades of brown, a maize yellow and an Atlantic blue contribute to the ten new colors women will wear this spring.

They are on the shade card, just issued by the combined British dyers, fabric manufacturers and dress designers. This month and next they will be seen in London shops and dress parades.

Gazelle is one of the six "sentimental" colors. It is described as a "neutral" hue, and is recommended for brides who do not care to wear the traditional white.

Other of the "sentimental" shades are "passion-flower," a soft mauve tint, "blush-rose," a lovely pink, and "blueette," a shade of blue which is understood to have met with the approval of the queen.

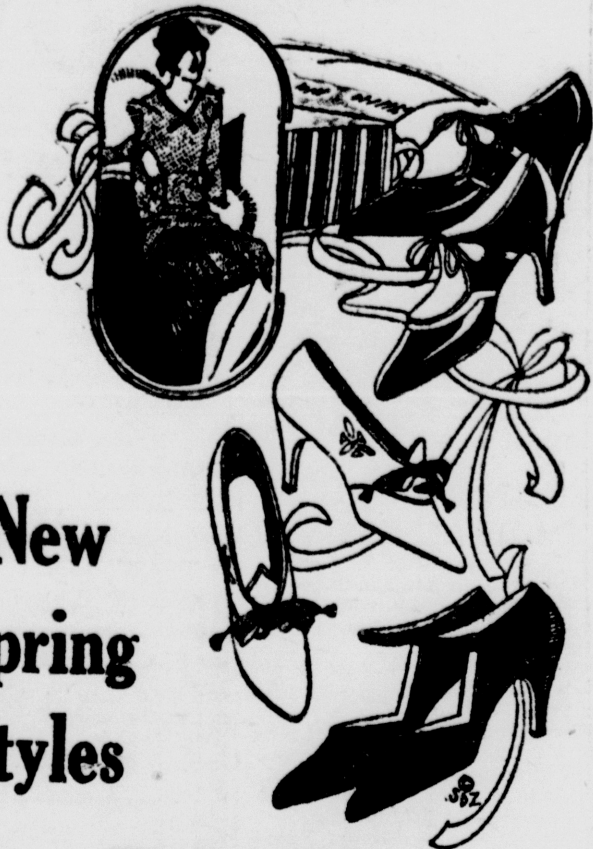

Japanese Population Fails to Keep Pace Set in Previous Years

TOKYO.—Japan's increase of population showed a decline of 1927 for the first time in many years. Although statistics for the first nine months of the year only are available they show that the increase for that period was 651,869.

This is 77,000 less than for the corresponding period of 1926. The birth rate during the first nine months of 1927 declined while the death rate increased.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

ENGLAND TRIES TO PICK DONOR OF GREAT GIFT

Government Presented With $2,500,000 Trust Fund.

TO PAY DEBT

Cash and Securities Handed to Banking House.

LONDON.—Nation-wide speculation regarding the identity of the mysterious donor has resulted from the announcement that the British government has been presented with $2,500,000, to be held in trust for a number of years and eventually applied to the reduction of the national debt.

Cash and securities to this amount have been handed to Baring Brothers, the well-known and old established banking house who will act as trustees. The heads of this bank, one or two members of the government, and the lawyers who have acted as intermediaries are the only persons who have any knowledge of the donor.

WEAK WOMEN SHOULD READ THIS

Men do not understand why women are so subject to occasional weakness and often real illnesses. The housewife often forces herself to go through a day's work when if her husband felt as miserable he would be in bed with the doctor at his bedside.

Much of this suffering is entirely unnecessary. A great deal of it is due to catarrh in the system—quite often unknown. The same mucous membrane as exists in the nose and throat lines all other cavities of the body and is subject to the same catarrh, with all its weakening effect.

Women Have Approved

The manufacturers of World's Tonic have many grateful letters from women who through the use of this remarkable medicine have been relieved of this weakness, and have gained strength to attend to their duties cheerfully and well.

World's Tonic has done this because it conquers catarrh, strengthens all bodily functions and restores vigor and strength.

Women who suffer will find it a great friend. It can be obtained for $1.00 a bottle of Carnahan's also. C. N. Brannan's, Wellsville, and other good druggists. (224).

Close Secret.

His identity and the conditions under which the trust will be administered are a closely guarded secret which no amount of questioning will induce Lord Revelstoke, chairman of the bank, to reveal.

In endeavoring to locate a man wealthy enough to make such a gift, the newspapers have narrowed the search down to fewer than a dozen names, which include Lord Revelstoke himself, Lord Howard de Walden, Bernhard Baron, the brothers Solly and Jack Joel, Lord Bessborough, the Marquis of Bute, Lord Vestey, Earl Cowdray, Lord Dewart, and Lord Derby, with Lord Revelstoke as perhaps the best bet.

London's richest ground landlord, Lord Howard de Walden, is worth many millions. The value of his property can be judged from the fact that he recently sold a small portion of it for $20,000,000. He is declared to be the kind of patriotic citizen who would be likely to make this form of gift.

Other Great Fortunes.

The Marquis of Bute is probably one of the three richest men in the country, with a reputed annual income of $1,000,000 a year. He possesses property in the seaport city of Cardiff worth $35,000,000 alone.

One of the nation's wealthiest men, whose name is famous for his philanthropic donations, is Bernhard Baron, the tobacco multi-millionaire. In recent years he has contributed to charities something like $7,000,000.

The Joel brothers are both believed to be worth more than $100,000,000, and the riches of the 85-year-old Lord Ashton, who amassed a great fortune out of linoleum, are on the same scale.

Lord Derby is perhaps the most famous of English multi-millionaires, his fortune being in the neighborhood of $30,000,000.

More than 670,000 boxes of grapefruit were shipped from Porto Rico to America in the past year, a gain of about 250,000 boxes over the previous season.

THIEF PREFERS FURS TO JEWELS

LONDON.—The London thief of today regards furs and tobacco as being more valuable, from his viewpoint, than jewels.

This statement is vouched for by Scotland Yard, whose chiefs have recently been seriously perturbed by the frequent raids on furs and tobacco warehouses and shops.

Quite 50 per cent of the best known thieves are now concentrating upon furs and tobacco. The reason is simple. $500 worth of jewelry is worth less than $50 to the actual thief and less than $125 to the receiver. And the risks of the articles being traced—due to the intensive system of Scotland Yard—are enormous.

But for furs and tobacco the thief receives 50 per cent, and the receiver 50 per cent of the actual value.

Both articles are easily disposed of and practically untraceable. So well organized are these thieves that the detectives are convinced that a "crooks central fur market" exists in London, where the articles can be altered and then sold in the street markets.

Gene's Admirer

"One of the most admirable men of our age," said pretty Caroline Bishop, movie actress, as she left Gene Tunney at the station in Miami Beach, Florida, to return to California. Then wedding rumors spread, but neither the "Champ" nor Miss Bishop will talk. (International Newsreel)

BODY OF SLAIN LIFER BURIED

Safety Director Balks Whitfield Exhibition in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., March 16. — John Leonard Whitfield, who was fatally shot last Saturday after escaping from the Ohio State penitentiary, where he was serving a life sentence for the murder of a Cleveland policeman, was buried yesterday.

Following a legal battle which lasted through Wednesday afternoon Safety Director Edwin D. Barry won the right to prevent crowds from viewing the body at a local undertaking parlor.

Common Pleas Judge C. V. Weygant who granted a temporary restraining order against the police interfering with the actual funeral services, explained that his intention had not been to allow a public exhibition of Whitfield's body. Final hearing on the injunction request made by the undertakers in charge of the body, was heard yesterday.

Barry had ordered that Whitfield's body "be buried Wednesday," saying he feared delay "might cause trouble."

Ja'far, Iraq War Hero, Honored by Both Sides, Angry at King Feisal

BAGHDAD.—One of the few leaders in the Great War to have won honors from both sides is Ja'far Pasha who recently resigned as prime minister of Iraq, following a sharp clash with King Feisal.

The disclosures of the different honors which fell to Ja'far Pasha it made by Robert Graves who in his "Lawrence and the Arabs" recalls that Ja'far was awarded the Iron Cross in 1925 for fighting on the side of the Germans in the desert west of Egypt. He was captured by a British regiment and while a prisoner realized that the better side for Arab independence was the British.

The British who set him free to join the Emir Feisal, now the monarch with whom he has fallen out. Ja'far became commander-in-chief of the Arab army, being awarded by the British, after the capture of Damascus, the title of Commander of St. Michael and St. George.

Plans are being made to rebuild business houses in Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic, that were destroyed recently when eight city blocks were swept by fire.

Fired . . . because he was always tired

IN EVERY walk of life you'll meet the "Drowsy Bills" . . . men and women who are losing out because they are forever tired. Young people they often are, in age—but old in energy. They try hard enough—but they are serving constipation too. The dread disease that can rob the strongest body of strength. That kills initiative. Wrecks health. That often handicaps with lasting disease.

And isn't it a pity when a simple, healthful cereal could bring relief all the while? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation promptly and safely. More—to prevent it from the start.

Nothing less than "ALL-BRAN" is 100% effective

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation naturally. ALL-BRAN furnishes healthful bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. This bulk absorbs moisture and distributes it through the digestive system. Gently distending the intestines—exercising them—sweeping out wastes and poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is seldom sufficient to completely perform this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran and accomplishes 100% results.

Different from unnatural pills

ALL-BRAN works as nature works. How much better than habit-forming drugs and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective—and which sometimes injure the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is an inviting, healthful cereal to eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Sprinkle it into soups too. Use it in cooking—recipes on package. Mix it with other cereals. Just eat two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

For health's sake, be sure you get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. At best, they can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, cafeterias, on diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.
